M'GOVERN IS KNOCKED OUT

"Young Corbett" of Denver Won the Featherweight Championship.

VICTORY IN SECOND ROUND

Fighting Was Fast From the Very Start and Result Was Surprise to the Majority.

By Associated Press.

Hartford, Conn. Nov. 28.—Knocked out in the second round, of which one minute and 44 seconds had elapsed, was the referee's verdict in the little battle between Young Corbett of Denver, and Terry McGovern of Brooklyn, who has held the featherweight championship unflinchingly since he won it from George Dixon eighteen months ago.

Outwitted and out-pointed with a fighter just the same as himself, McGovern had to lower his colors this afternoon at the Nutmeg Athletic club to Young Corbett within six minutes from the start of the fight.

Young Corbett, who, outside of ring parlance is Billy Rothwell, got the better of the champion in less than two rounds of fighting and he did it so perfectly that there was no doubt about it.

The shock to the New York enthusiasts who crowded the boxing pavilion when the little champion was knocked out in the second round, was a repetition of the disappointment exhibited by the adherents of John L. Sullivan when Corbett defeated him in New Orleans.

Terry was as fit as the proverbial fiddle, but he was not fast enough for his man. From the word "go" the men went at each other like game cocks and it looked as if either would go out in the first round. McGovern fought the worst of the opening round and in his endeavor to get in left himself open several times. Corbett stood off McGovern on every lead and trick, but the little Brooklyn boy went on as if there was nothing to it but the winner's end of the purse.

When McGovern was knocked down in the opening round there were cries of dismay from his backers but his wonderful recuperative powers were equal to the occasion and he was on his feet within seven seconds.

This downfall seemed to take the stamina out of McGovern but he fought the round in clever style and tried hard to stem the tide of defeat which seemed to have set against him. He tried all his rushing work, which proved so profitable on former occasions, but Corbett met his every curse and countered hard on neck, jaw and head.

When Terry came back to his corner at the end of the first round he said:

"That's the toughest guy I ever met, but I'll lick him just as soon as I see an opening."

The opening did not come very handily for the New York boy as the little Denver pugilist had then taken his measure.

Down went Terry again in the second and when he got up quickly he rushed like a wild man. He showed a lack of self restraint and a burst of bad temper hit out left and right irrespective of all rules and science. These tactics, apparently, were just what Corbett was looking for. Terry was mixing things up at whirlwind velocity, and throwing science to the winds. It was anyone's fight at this stage, but Terry fell into a trap. As Corbett feinted and suddenly sent his right out when McGovern was sidestepping. This blow just grazed McGovern's head, but a moment later Corbett feinted again and after a rattling exchange of blows sent his right over to the jaw and Terry went down and out. While the fallen champion was frantically trying to regain his feet the crowd yelled madly.

The referee declared that the young Denver man had won. He won on his merits, as he took no chances.

Terry was crestfallen after he returned to his dressing room. He said:

"Well, you can't tell how things can be accounted for. I hope to make another match with Corbett and I am more than confident that he will not be able to put it over me again."

Young Corbett was very demure when he emerged from his dressing room. At first he was reluctant to talk, but finally said:

"I was sure I could beat McGovern, and my opinion was based on what I had seen and heard of him. I felt that I had him from the first punch, but I was cool headed all through. When I began to sting him he lost his head, and when he lost his head it was all over. I had him right there and with a right swinging uppercut I landed the blow which won the battle."

Young Corbett will remain here for some days. Dave Sullivan was one of the first to send a challenge to the winner as soon as Charlie White, the referee, announced his decision.

Round 1—McGovern tried for an opening with his left and sent the right to Corbett's jaw. They clinched. In the mix-up both landed lefts. They exchanged lefts on the face and McGovern, rushing again, sent his left to the body, and right to the head. Corbett was short on his leads and Terry bored him to the ropes with a hard right over the heart. McGovern ducked a left swing and landed right hard on the eye, forcing Corbett to the ropes. Corbett came back pluckily with a left on the body, which was countered with a right over the heart from his opponent. McGovern led again with his right, landing on his opponent's shoulder and Corbett came back with a hard right over the heart, sending McGovern back. But the Brooklyn boy retorted with right and left, only to be met with a swing on the jaw which sent him on his back. He jumped to his feet immediately and went at his opponent hammer and tongs on the chest and face, forcing him to his knees. Corbett got up and the round ended in one of the hottest mixes on record with honors about even.

Round 2—McGovern rushed in with a left to the body and the men clinched. A rapid exchange of rights and lefts followed. Corbett was on the defensive and met Terry's rushes with straight left jabs. Suddenly he brought up his right uppercutting McGovern and sending him to the floor. McGovern took five seconds of the count and came back like a wild man, with left and right swings. Science was thrown to the winds, and the boys began slugging. McGovern was very wild and they made a half circle of the ring, fighting in this manner. At this stage it looked like anybody's fight should one of the victims swinging blows land. While Corbett kept his head and seemed to bore in better, his body blows were apparently no stiffer than those of McGovern. However he kept on forcing McGovern across the ring and finally Terry forgot his defense. He simply saw a hurricane of blows coming toward him and there was no guarding on his part. Suddenly a right swinging uppercut landed squarely on the point of his jaw and McGovern went down and out. He was not rendered unconscious, but it was evident to all present that he knew the championship had taken wings, and he made wild efforts to regain his feet. Referee White called off ten seconds while McGovern valiantly struggled. Corbett stepped back in obedience to the referee's gesture although he evidently was in doubt as to his fallen opponent's condition. McGovern had given him such a gruelling argument that he was for the moment dubious as to whether the Brooklyn boy might not be able to come up again and renew the battle. But it was all over and in a few minutes the new champion was in his dressing room receiving the congratulations while McGovern was wondering how it all happened.

After the fight a purse of $10,000 was offered by the Twentieth Century Athletic club of San Francisco for another fight between McGovern and Corbett and McGovern accepted the offer.

M'CLELLAND'S CHALLENGE.

By Associated Press.

Pittsburg, Nov. 28. Billy Corcoran, manager of Jack McClelland of this city, has posted a $500 forfeit on behalf of McClelland for a fight with Young Corbett for a side bet of $1,000, winner take all, or any other terms satisfactory to the new champion.

WORK OF REVISING THE PRESBYTERIAN CREED

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The preliminary work of revising the creed of the Presbyterian church so as to make it more popularly understood was begun here today at a meeting of a section of the committee of 25 appointed at the last Presbyterian assembly to accomplish [illegible].

The section that met today spent several hours in discussion but no action was taken. Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson of Chicago presided and the other members who participated were Rev. Drs. Minton of San Francisco and Beecher of Cleveland, and Justice Harlan of the United States supreme court. A form of statement to replace the one now in use was submitted and other forms will likely be submitted. The object is to secure a formal expression of doctrine that will be more definite and convey to the laymen a clearer subject than the present declaration. No vital changes were contemplated in today's discussions, but may be a different mode of expression was aimed at. It was recognized that the 250 years that have elapsed since the adoption of the present statement of doctrine has made some differences in the conception of the authorities. There was some discussion as to the incorporation of a statement regarding the personality of God, but this proposition is still a tentative one.

The section will hold another session tomorrow and will meet daily until Wednesday, when the full committee will convene with a view to taking final action. Whether the deliberations of the full committee will occupy a week or a number of weeks is still conjectural.

Two other sections of the committee will meet contemporaneously with the full body and will frame propositions for action by that body. One of these [illegible] great new chapters on the Holy Spirit and on the love of God and the other will make a slight revision of the confession of faith with reference to the elect infants declaration. It is held that the present statement on this point implies that any infant dying in infancy is "lost" from the standpoint of the religious future state, and the [illegible] it clear that the Presbyterian church does not hold the belief that those who die in infancy are lost. This change will be effected probably by a specific declamatory statement, though possibly by amending the present text.

GOVERNOR TAFT IS RECOVERING

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 28.—Ex-Congressman Charles P. Taft, publisher of the Times-Star, and a brother of Governor General of the Philippines William H. Taft, today received a cablegram from Manila, stating that Surgeons Stafford and Rhodes have successfully grafted the skin on Governor Taft's wound and he will probably be able to pay his projected visit to the United States at the end of December.

A party of Cincinnatians headed by J. G. Schmidlap, the banker, had expected to leave this week on a tour around the world, their objective point being a visit to Governor Taft at Manila. They have postponed their trip indefinitely on advices from Manila and arrangements will be made to give Governor Taft a reception here by his old neighbors on his return.

SCHOOL OF MINES ONCE MORE DEFEATED ON WASHBURN FIELD

ANOTHER great intercollegiate contest has taken place and once again the black and the gold of Colorado college waves in triumph over Washburn field and the School of Mines. The college team cannot lay claim to the intercollegiate championship of the state since Boulder this year has a better title to the distinction, but the college enthusiasts have this satisfaction: they have won the game that they would hate more than all others to lose.

It was really a great contest, probably the greatest, from the standpoint of the lover of the game itself that has yet taken place between these two colleges. It was a close game, exciting and really in doubt from start to finish, and this notwithstanding the fact that it took the college team just 28 seconds after the kick-off to land the leather in the section of ground that gave the college a clear title to five points against the visitors, which five points were easily converted into six by the swift, true, kicking-for-goal foot of Jonson, the doughty little quarterback and captain of the Tigers, all-around star in the contest of yesterday winner of more laurels to place with the large bouquets of those that he has been collecting in this city and state during the past six or seven years.

There were three touchdowns in the game and all of them were of great interest in the manner of their making. The first came, as stated above, after only 28 seconds of play, and it was one of the most spectacular and interesting ever made here. It showed excellent resourcefulness in the coach of the college team, who has been training his men in signal practice for this play for several days. The toss gave Lehmer, the visiting captain, the ball. The kick-off was by Muether, who sent the leather to Fuller, who returned it from his own 5-yard line to his 50 yard line and carried it out of bounds. Jonson, as he was permitted to do by the rules, instead of carrying the ball in and placing it on the ground for a scrimmage, touched it in and then kicked it, sending it far down the field into the enemy's territory. His whole team was on side when the kick was made and Kiteley, center, gathered it into his embrace at the 30-yard line and never stopped. He literally "went away back and sat down", and waited while the astonished visitors and spectators gathered their ideas together and formed conclusions as to what had been going on. It was interesting also because touchdowns are not frequently to be credited to the center of any team. The rest of the scoring was done by the hardest kind of football. Golden scored in the first half, after the ball had changed possession repeatedly because of fumbles by both teams after both teams had proven marvelously strong in attack and not particularly strong in defense, after the supporters of both aggregations had had their hopes raised to the pinnacle of expectancy and then had them dashed to the depths of despondency. Lehmer should have converted the touchdown by Emrich into a goal but he failed, as the close of the first half it would not have been hard to find Golden money. In the second half there was a protracted period of play of the same tantalizing sort. There was magnificent rushing by both teams, the ball going into dangerous ground repeatedly, only to be fumbled ingloriously, the other aggregation to turn the tables and carry it back. Play was even, the only indication of superiority being in the fact that the college team scored and the visitors did not. There was a handsome spirit of "fight to the last ditch" in both teams, better than ever shown by two teams in a single game here before.

Jonson was the particular star of the day. Lehmer was his closest rival for the favor of the enthusiasts, but Jonson's work on defense was more effective than that of the visiting quarter. Time and again, when big Muether had hurled his manly proportions completely over his own and the opposing lines, he would drop into the arms of the steady, sure captain of the Tigers, and never an inch more was he to expect. Jonson was worth more on defense than all the rest of his team put together. Robinson, the little halfback for the college team, was the quickest man on his feet in the game. There was no case where a player broke through with an entirely clear field before him, but Robinson had such suspicions of speed at times that he made the people believe he could haul down any stalwart who might care to offer himself as material for a practical demonstration. Mead didn't quit for a minute. He was up and at it all the time. Fuller was a tower of aggressiveness, and little Lennox always nervy and effective, was good for the necessary ground almost invariably.

For the Miners, there were men in the blue and white who went at it as though they expected to begin development work most any minute. They uncovered several veins of football stuff that looked exceedingly good and they had the college supporters worried to the last minute. Lehmer was strictly first class goods and Moss and Johnson were there when they were wanted. Muether was the best fullback that Golden has brought here since the memorable struggle of '98, when Lewis held the high seat in the backfield. Muether was one of the best examples that the game has produced here for some time of the man who is "generally good for his length." He bucked and he hurdled and he didn't stop well, at least not until Jonson got him.

The game was not marred by wrangles. The officials gave good satisfaction and there was no occasion for penalties for unsportsmanlike conduct. A laughable incident in the second half occurred when Golden had 13 men on the field and all mixed up, though two of them involuntarily, in a scrimmage. Two of them were regulars who were giving way to subs, but the play didn't stop long enough for the regulars to get off the field and they were dragged into the play.

Both Coach Ewing and Coach Dudley have occasion to feel grateful for the showing made by their men. Both colleges have occasion to feel satisfied with the coaching of their teams this year.

It wasn't possible for both teams to win and the best one was the one that landed the biggest bunch of points.

The following is the detail of the play:

The First Half.

Lehmer won the toss and took the ball, giving Jonson the south goal to defend. The team lined up for the kick-off and the spectators began to settle down in their seats to watch the game. But they didn't remain settled long. Fuller caught Muether's kick on college 5-yard line and returned through the broken field to the 50-yard line, where he went out of bounds. Jonson had an option in the next play and he took it up. Instead of carrying the ball in as is generally done he touched it in and kicked it toward the miners' goal. All the Tigers were on side and Kiteley was hot on the trail of the leather. Quick as a flash he had it and was over the line for the first five points 28 seconds after play started, the grandstands in an uproar of enthusiasm over the spectacular and princely exhibition of skill and strategy. When the visitors in blue and white realized what had happened they lined up under their goal and watched Jonson while he converted the touchdown. Score:

Colorado college 6, School of Mines 0.

Then the struggle began anew.

Muether kicked to Lennox at college 10-yard line and the plucky little halfback stepped off a couple of white stripes before he was forced out into touch. The ball was brought in and placed on the ground for a scrimmage but Roberts, in getting through the opposing line, acted too much like a man drowning and the ball went to the Miners for holding.

Emrich did a little prospecting between Brown and Roberts and the effort assayed two yards to the try. The place was promising but Lehmer stuttered in his pass and college got the ball again.

Lennox was booked for a gain of five around left tackle and he all but made it. Fuller bombarded the line between Kiteley and Bale and the try netted a yard and first down. Robinson skirted right end for the width of the field but his gain was only half a yard. Golden was penalized 10 yards for off-side play. Lennox tried again but it was hard ploughing, Richards being in evidence, and when Lennox was downed there was still 2½ to be made. Fuller tried left tackle and guard for the 2½ and made one better than first down. Lennox tried the same hole and made a half, whereupon the college brought big Brown around and through between Hill and Estes, the play netting five and first down again.

At this point Force, Golden's right tackle, received a bad wrench in the side which compelled him to retire from the game. Emrich moved up into the line in Force's place and Moss went at left half.

Lennox tried left end but had little room and went out of bounds with a loss of two. Fuller kicked to Muether, who was downed in his tracks at his own 45-yard line, the promptness with which he was downed costing the college 15 yards. Muether kicked a long punt but it was a little wild and the ball was declared in touch at the college 30-yard line.

Robinson tried right end again, with little success, netting a foot. Fuller dove through between Sill and Palsgrove for a gain of six yards and Lennox, in a spirited dash, followed suit for a like gain. Fuller tried the spot again but it seemed to be the breast of the drift, the gain being but a yard. He didn't want to stop, however, so he told Nead and Reed to make a place for him. Middlekamp and Palsgrove couldn't hold and the dashing Tiger fullback ripped out a run of seven yards, the longest in the game up to this time.

The repeated rushes on Palsgrove's position laid him out and another change occurred in the Golden line-up. Hill moved out to tackle, Emrich went in at guard.

Lennox responded to the next call with three around left end, and Mead was downed after the next rush with three more to the good, having eluded the Golden left wing. Robinson tried the same trick and got a yard. Fuller following with four through Golden's right side. Golden got off-side again and it cost 10 Abernathey footprints. Fuller dodged around right end for four and Reed came back around left for three. The Tigers unlawfully interfered with the opponents in the next scrimmage and the Miners were given the pigskin.

Muether here began the kind of play that made the Tigers use smelling salts half a dozen times in the play. Kiteley and Brown, college left center, had been Dudley's target in training since the Golden coach saw the college-Boulder game. Muether tried the hole and nine big, long yards were his reward. Johnson tried the same place and got a yard. He then tried left end for three and right end for three more. Left end was tried again by the same man and he stepped nine of them to the good. Moss tried right and made four and Johnson made six more around left. Play was now near the 25-yard line. Muether kept up the furious work with a five-yard gain through the middle of the college right wing, and then the Tigers got the ball again on off-side play.

Nead needed only a chance and he made four around left. Fuller tried right center again for three and Mead made five around Kiteley's right. Fuller attacked the same spot and made eight and Lennox went straight through for three. Mead following in the next play on the same point, outside college right tackle, for three more. Fuller went outside college left tackle for four and Brown whirled around Jonson and Kiteley for a gain of five. Lennox made two through same place and Mead made a half around right end. Fuller tried to part Golden's right wind but the defense was too much and the ball went to the Miners on downs, the first time that it had thus changed possession in the game.

Muether hurdled over Nead and the college left wing for half a yard better than first down. It looked bad again for the locals. Moss got around Roberts for four yards and Jonson did likewise for two. Jonson tried right end for no gain, and Middlekamp made three around Nead. Muether's kick saved the visitors the loss of the ball on downs, driving the leather from his own 27 to the college 50-yard line to Jonson, who gained little on the return.

Lennox tried left end and made four and a half. Fuller went in on invitation of Kiteley and Brown and rolled five yards and then Mead, in a beautiful, spirited effort around outside Roberts, in which he was knocked down twice but recovered himself, netted 20 yards, the longest and most spectacular gain by carrying the ball in the game. Fuller tried right center again but didn't have the ball with him.

Moss got two left of his own tackle and Muether tried the same place for nothing. Jonson tried his own side and made good for first down. Muether made four through left center and six through right, then tried left end for three-fourths. The next three downs gave Golden's one intricate formation a fair trial and put it out of the game. The ends were called back and made a close formation, the first appearance of the formation causing some doubt as to its legitimacy. It was good, however, and Middlekamp, who came out of the bunch with the ball, gave the tiger a seven-yard score. There was an impediment in the next attempt at the same play. A third effort on second down netted a yard, whereupon Muether kicked to Fuller, who caught the ball at his own 15-yard line and was downed there with it.

Bale made three through left wing and Mead made three in a right circle. Fuller bucked for 2½ and Lennox made it going through right center like a profane expression through the lips of a man who had had a corn walked on. Robinson carried the ball three yards through left tackle and Fuller followed him for five. Nead made all but five in the same way and Fuller made it better than five with a yard and a half in the fourth consecutive gain, between Force and Richards of the Golden team. Robinson was called on and ran through fast but didn't have the ball, and the fumble gave it to Golden on the college 42-yard line.

Golden here started in to score.

Moss ran around right end for half a yard gain and Muether went to the right of center for five and then for three, following this with two around left. Moss made 11 around left tackle and Muether took two more to right of center. Moss made two and Muether three. Muether three more, and then four through to left of tackle, and then six to right of center. Play was at the C. C. 25-yard line. Jonson made two to left of tackle and then Lehmer, with a double-pass, took some starch out of black and gold stock certificates with an 18-yard dash around left end. He was downed by Robinson on the college nine-yard line. Muether made half a yard between right tackle and end and then seven around left tackle. Emrich and given the try for the touchdown and made it, going around left tackle while the Miners and their friends raised a war-whoop of enthusiasm. It didn't last as long as it should have, however, as the easy try for goal was no good. Muether kicking wild. Score:

Colorado college 6, School of Mines 5.

Three minutes and 10 seconds to play.

Jonson kicked and a touchback resulted. Two or three plays closed the half, Golden having the ball on the college 20-yard line when time was called.

Second Half.

Jonson kicked to Lehmer at Golden's five-yard line, who returned the ball to the 25-yard line. Muether went around left tackle for no gain, and then to right of center for four, and then kicked to Fuller, who was downed in the middle of the field.

Mead circled right for two and Nead made four around left tackle. Jonson, receiving the ball from Mead on a double pass, ran across the field but failed to gain on it. Nead circled left tackle for a gain of six and Fuller went to right of center for five. Mead and Nead carried the ball for gains of two and five respectively and Robinson got around right end for 12 yards, downing the ball on Golden's 20-yard line. Mead circled right tackle for three and a half and Fuller made it first down to right of center. Lennox made three to left of center and Brown went between right guard and tackle for two more. Reed made a yard and a half around left end and Fuller made two to left of Brown, the ball being downed on the Miners' seven-yard line, where it was fumbled on the next play.

Moss shot through between left tackle and guard and started for the goal with only Fuller ahead of him. He did not get to Fuller, however, Robinson bringing him down from behind after 20 yards had been covered. Moss then made five and three yards around left tackle and right end respectively, excellent tackling by Jonson bringing him down in both plays. Middlekamp circled right for one and Muether kicked to Fuller, who received the ball on the college 50-yard line.

Lennox made two and a half straight through right wing and Fuller made three through left. Reed tried left end and made a yard and Robinson was downed for no gain in a try around right. Jonson kicked to Lehmer at the Miners' 15-yard line.

Muether tried left tackle for no gain and Moss circled right end for a gain of seven. He then went straight through left for one and a half and Muether made gains of two and five to left of tackle and left of center, Jonson again being conspicuous for his excellent tackling. Muether made one and two to left of center and Johnson made three to left of tackle, following this with a left end run for five. Moss made a yard to left of center and Muether five to left of tackle. Another gain of five by Muether put the ball on the college 52-yard line. Muether went through to right of center for seven yards but Jonson carried him back bodily for five and two yards was his gain. Moss made six through the left wing and followed it with three through the same place and three more to right of center. He then tried right end but was downed by Fuller for no gain. The next five yards were made by Moss in four and a half around left end and one to right of center. A hitch in the pass gave the college the ball on her own 24-yard line.

The college here started in and after 10 plays, in which Brown, carrying the ball between right guard and tackle, played an important part, had advanced the ball to the center of the field and invaded the enemy's territory for eight yards. Golden here took the ball on downs and started in to win the territory back.

Three plays netted a first down and one yard more and two more plays forced the Miners to kick. Muether kicked 30 yards to Jonson, who received the ball on his own 33-yard line and returned it to the 40-yard line. The college here started in to put the game safe.

Robinson circled right end for nine yards. Dudley didn't care for the situation a bit and ordered Sill into the game to replace Muether, and sent Robinson in at quarter, Lehmer going out. Before the two men who were being displaced had reached the sidelines, Brown went around right tackle, registering 14 yards, and the two men who were leaving the game were involuntarily involved in the scrimmage that took place when he was tackled. The fact that there were 13 Mines players on the field created havoc in the mind of Hester, a baseball probability for Colorado college, and he seems to have been just about the only person on the field to grasp the situation. He conferred with Packard and then ran across the field to right matters. Referee Abernathey was inclined to be severe upon his volunteer assistant, but when he realized that the man had valuable information to impart he accepted it with grace. The situation, however, by this time had righted itself.

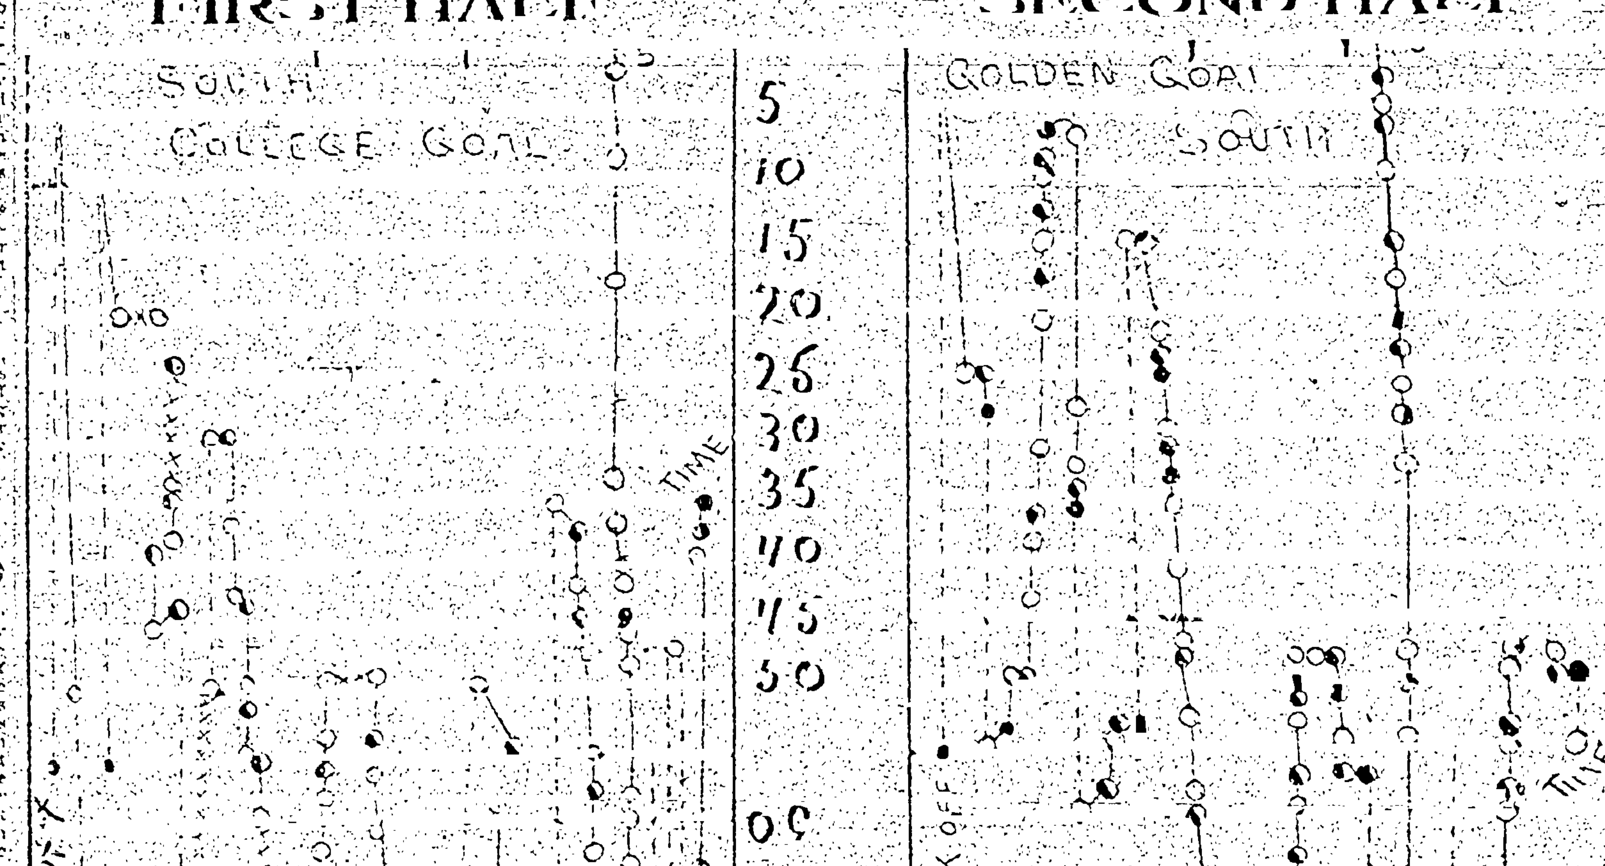

Advances through the lines with an occasional short one around left end finally brought the ball to the Miners' 10-yard line and it was plain that, barring another fumble, the Tigers were very likely to score again. By this time D'Array had replaced Estes at center. Brown went through right wing again for four yards and Fuller followed through the same hole for first down. Golden was putting up a terrific defense. Fuller tried the left wing and made but a yard and a half. Another onslaught at the same point, backed by the supremest effort of the entire college team, proved sufficient to put the sturdy fullback over the line and another hard-earned touchdown was registered. The kick was easy and although there was little room to spare, it went true and the touchdown was converted. Score:

Colorado college 12, School of Mines 5.

After the kick-off, in which Lennox made a pretty return of 17 yards, bucking tactics again advanced the ball 25 yards toward the Golden goal, where a fumble again gave it to the Miners. Moss made a yard to left of left tackle and Sill kicked to Mead, who caught the ball and was downed near the center of the field. The whistle sounded and the game was over.

In the last two minutes of play Coach Ewing replaced several Colorado college men by substitutes who had worked hard in practice and whom he desired to give a "varsity" "C" in return for their work. Warner replaced Kiteley, James replaced Brown and McClintock replaced Reed. The participation of these men in a championship game entitles each to wear a "varsity" "C" on their sweater, an honor which the men have earned by hard practice.

FIRST HALF — SECOND HALF

C. S. W. C. DEFEATED

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Nov. 28.—At Union park this afternoon the aggregation of pigskin kickers representing the Colorado Springs Wheel club was defeated in a hard-fought contest by the 11 husky young men wearing the colors of the Cripple Creek Athletic club. When time was called at the end of the second half the score stood 10 to 5 in the locals' favor. It was an ideal day for the contest and fully 1,000 spectators were in the stand and crowded along the sidelines to cheer the locals on to victory. For the first few minutes of play it look like a walk-away for the heavier men comprising the visitors' team. Half Backs Harbert and Bell and Full Back Bates made repeated gains of from two to 10 yards and they could not be stopped. A fumble allowed Half Back Crosley, the star player of the locals, to carry the ball back several yards. The visitors again secured the ball on downs and Full Back Bates carried it over the line for a touchdown. No goal was kicked. After the second kick-off, straight line bucks by Half Back Crowe and Full Back Beam proved great gainers for the locals. At this juncture came the feature of the game. Half Back Crosley took the ball and made a 40-yard run around right end. He was stopped by Mitchell, who made a pretty tackle five yards from the Colorado Springs goal line. On the next down Crowe went through the line for a touchdown. McNeeley missed a difficult goal and the score was tied. A few minutes' play ended the half.

Cripple came up strong in the second half, while Colorado Springs showed the effects of the high altitude. The back field of the locals, assisted by excellent team work, hit the line for big gains and soon had the game won. Full Back Beam made a touchdown. McNeeley missed the goal. During the balance of the game the ball was in the center of the field.

Several times during the contest Mayor F. J. Crane was called to act in his professional capacity of doctor. The local boys were quite lucky in the way of injuries, but Colorado Springs suffered greatly. In the second half Bates, the visitors' full back, was knocked unconscious and was relieved. He is little the worse for his injuries tonight. The game was free from other unpleasant features.

D. A. C. 29—BOULDER 0.

Denver, Nov. 28.—In the annual championship football game between the University of Colorado and the Denver Athletic club, played on the D. A. C. field here today, the former was defeated by a score of 29 to 0. The Boulder team was unable to withstand the rushes of the big Athletic men who found little difficulty in breaking through the light Boulder line. The Boulder men made a plucky fight and although at times half of their team were lying stretched out on the ground only one man was forced to permanently leave the field. The average weight of the Athletic team was 15 pounds more to the man and their forward line was a veritable stone wall of defense. The game was devoid of sensational features. "Indian" MacAndrews, half back for D. A. C. kicked an easy goal from field but when Boulder tried the same thing Captain Rothwell of the Athletics tore through the line and blocked the kick and by kicking the ball along the ground sent it across Boulder's goal line. The ball was brought back and put in play on Boulder's five-yard line D. A. C. forcing it back over the line for a touchdown. With the game safe for the Athletic club several subs were put in at the beginning of the second half.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Nov. 28. D. A. C. 29, State University 0.

A record-breaking crowd saw the yellow and white of Boulder fairly dragged in the mire of defeat by the cherry and black at the D. A. C. park this afternoon. A large part of Boulder and all of the population of Denver, except those who were celebrating Young Corbett's victory, were there and saw the University boys put up a plucky and sportsmanlike fight in the face of overwhelming defeat. The D. A. C. team of today was far from the ragged and careless team one saw play the Wheel Club last Saturday. Every play was good and every man played to win. The backs were the fastest ever seen on a Denver gridiron, and it is hard to praise any one man, for all deserved as much as ordinarily falls to a football player's lot. Boulder was never in the running, never at any time in the game did they stand a chance of endangering the Athletic goal save once in the second half when they worked down to the 20-yard line where Denver held and a Princeton kick was called for under favorable circumstances, but the club men broke through, blocked the kick and Captain Rothwell kicked the ball down to the Boulder five-yard line, where it was secured by a student, and the very next lineup there was a fumble and D. A. C. fell on the ball behind the University lines for its third touchdown.

The story of the scoring is soon told. By hard and consistent football, the D. A. C. scored two touchdowns in the first half and one in the second half, which with the one above described and a beautiful drop kick from the field by MacAndrews, told the tale and the Boulder contingent loyal and enthusiastic to the last, went home defeated.

CORNELL BEAT PENNSY

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Nov. 28. The University of Pennsylvania football team ended its disastrous season today with a crushing defeat at the hands of the Cornell eleven, the Ithaca boys scoring 24 points to the Quakers' 6. It was the first time since the two universities have played football together that Cornell has been able to conquer Pennsylvania. All through the contest the red and blue players fought their opponents every inch of the way, but the doughty boys from New York state were superior to them in every department of the game except in punting. No matter how hard the Pennsylvanians tried Cornell was always there to meet them. Cornell's offense was powerful. It seemed little difference where they tried—through the center, against the tackles or around the ends. Pennsylvania was able to hold them not more than a half dozen times. The visitors also got into the play better and quicker than the home men, which counted for much in the mass plays. A notable feature of Cornell's attack was the fine interference for the runner in open play. Two of her touchdowns

GROWING OLD GRACEFULLY.

Nothing is so interesting, nothing so restful and refreshing, as to see a man and woman who have lived together for a quarter of a century, starting down the shady slope of life hand in hand, and happy, as they were when she, with flushed face, heard love's old sweet song. Marriage is often a failure, because people marry without even giving the future a thought—marry and go to work and work without recreation till they are ready to die. I once heard a lady telling her daughter what to do when she was married. "Take a trip," she said; "get married in winter time when the world is cheerless and you are short on sunshine; take a trip to the southern states and turn winter into summer again; go to Little Rock, Hot Springs or San Antonio, and get acquainted with your husband; watch him at the hotel, and see what he likes to eat, and how and when he likes it. It won't hurt you to study his comfort a little; it would make him love you more. But you must know something of him before you are married. Never marry a man who will laugh at the jokes on mothers-in-law at the minstrel show, or who will not buy his wedding tour tickets over the Missouri Pacific Railway."

Millions in Sugar Beets This year.

Over $100,000 in cash was paid last Saturday by the owners of the beet sugar factories at Loveland, Rocky Ford, Sugar City and Grand Junction to the farmers of the territory surrounding the four places. This is only one of the six or eight payments for beets that will comprise the sum total of the shares of the agriculturists alone in the exceedingly youthful but wonderfully lusty industry.

We are agents for Beet Sugar Land near Holly in the Arkansas Valley. We give half rates to parties desiring to investigate these lands.

Young Corbett will remain here for some days. Dave Sullivan was one of the first to send a challenge to the winner as soon as Charlie White, the referee, announced his decision.

Round 1—McGovern tried for an opening with his left and sent the right to Corbett's jaw. They clinched. In the mix-up both landed lefts. They exchanged lefts on the face and McGovern, rushing again, sent his left to the body, and right to the head. Corbett was short on his leads, and Terry bored him to the ropes with a hard right over the heart. McGovern ducked a left swing and landed right hard on the eye, forcing Corbett to the ropes. Corbett came back pluckily with a left on the body, which was countered with a right over the heart from his opponent. McGovern led again with his right, landing on his opponent's shoulder and Corbett came back with a hard right over the heart, sending McGovern back. But the Brooklyn boy retorted with right and left, only to be met with a swing on the jaw which sent him on his back. He jumped to his feet immediately and went at his opponent hammer and tongs, on the chest and face, forcing him to his knees. Corbett got up and the round ended in one of the hottest mixes on record with honors about even.

Round 2—McGovern rushed in with a left to the body and the men clinched. A rapid exchange of rights and lefts followed. Corbett was on the defensive and met Terry's rushes with straight left jabs. Suddenly he brought up his left, uppercutting McGovern and sending him to the floor. McGovern took five seconds of the count and came back like a wild man, with left and right swings. Science was thrown to the winds, and the boys began slugging. McGovern was very wild and they made a half circle of the ring, fighting in this manner. At this stage it looked like anybody's fight should one of the vicious swinging blows land. While Corbett kept his head and seemed to bore in better, his body blows were apparently no stiffer than those of McGovern. However, he kept on forcing McGovern across the right ring and finally Terry forgot his defense. He simply saw a hurricane of blows coming toward him and there was no guarding on his part. Suddenly a right swinging uppercut landed squarely on the point of his jaw and McGovern went down and out. He was not rendered unconscious, but it was evident to all present that he knew the championship had taken wings, and he made wild efforts to regain his feet. Referee White called off ten seconds while McGovern valiantly struggled. Corbett stepped back in obedience to the referee's gesture although he evidently was in doubt as to his fallen opponent's condition. McGovern had given him such a gruelling argument that he was for the moment dubious as to whether the Brooklyn boy might not be able to come up again and renew the battle. But it was all over, and in a few minutes the new champion was in his dressing room receiving the congratulations, while McGovern was wondering how it all happened.

After the fight a purse of $10,000 was offered by the Twentieth Century Athletic club of San Francisco for another fight between McGovern and Corbett and McGovern accepted the offer.

GOVERNOR TAFT IS RECOVERING

By Associated Press.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 28.—Ex-Congressman Charles P. Taft, publisher of the Times-Star, and a brother of Governor General of the Philippines William H. Taft, today received a cablegram from Manila, stating that Surgeons Stafford and Rhodes have successfully grafted the skin on Governor Taft's wound and he will probably be able to pay his projected visit to the United States at the end of December.

A party of Cincinnatians headed by J. G. Schmidlap, the banker, had expected to leave this week on a tour around the world, their objective point being a visit to Governor Taft at Manila. They have postponed their trip indefinitely on advices from Manila and arrangements will be made to give Governor Taft a reception here by his old neighbors on his return.

SCHOOL OF MINES ONCE MORE DEFEATED ON WASHBURN FIELD

ANOTHER great intercollegiate contest has taken place and once again the black and the gold of Colorado college waves in triumph over Washburn field and the School of Mines. The college team cannot lay claim to the intercollegiate championship of the state since Boulder this year has a better title to the distinction, but the college enthusiasts have this satisfaction: they have won the game that they would hate more than all others to lose.

It was really a great contest—probably the greatest, from the standpoint of the lover of the game itself that has yet taken place between these two colleges. It was a close game, exciting and really in doubt from start to finish, and this notwithstanding the fact that took the college team just 28 seconds after the kick-off to land the leather in the section of ground that gave the college a clear title to five points against the visitors, which five points were easily converted into six by the swift, true, kicking-for-goal foot of Jonson, the doughty little quarterback and captain of the Tigers, all-around star in the contest of yesterday, winner of more laurels to place with the large bouquets of those that he has been collecting in this city and state during the past six or seven years.

There were three touchdowns in the game and all of them were of great interest in the manner of their making. The first came, as stated above, after only 28 seconds of play, and it was one of the most spectacular and interesting ever made here. It showed excellent resourcefulness in the coach of the college team, who has been training his men in signal practice for this play for several days. The toss gave Lehmer, the visiting captain, the ball. The kick-off was by Muether, who sent the leather to Fuller, who returned it from his own 5-yard line to his 50 yard line and carried it out of bounds. Jonson, as he was permitted to do by the rules, instead of carrying the ball in and placing it on the ground for a scrimmage, touched it in and then kicked it, sending it far down the field into the enemy's territory. His whole team was on side when the kick was made and Kiteley, center, gathered it into his embrace at the 20-yard line and never stopped. He literally "went away back and sat down" and waited while the astonished visitors and spectators gathered their ideas together and formed conclusions as to what had been going on. It was interesting also because touchdowns are not frequently to be credited to the center of any team. The rest of the scoring was done by the hardest kind of football. Golden scored in the first half, after the ball had changed possession repeatedly because of fumbles by both teams, after both teams had proven marvelously strong in attack and not particularly strong in defense, after the supporters of both aggregations had had their hopes raised to the pinnacle of expectancy and then had them dashed to the depths of despondency. Lehmer should have converted the touchdown by Emrich into a goal but he failed. At the close of the first half it would not have been hard to find Golden money. In the second half there was a protracted period of play of the same tantalizing sort. There was magnificent rushing by both teams, the ball going into dangerous ground repeatedly, only to be fumbled ingloriously, the other aggregation to turn the tables and carry it back. Play was even, the only indication of superiority being in the fact that the college team scored and the visitors did not. There was a handsome spirit of "fight to the last ditch" in both teams, better than ever shown by two teams in a single game here before.

Jonson was the particular star of the day. Lehmer was his closest rival for the favor of the enthusiasts, but Jonson's work on defense was more effective than that of the visiting quarter. Time and again, when big Muether had hurled his manly proportions completely over his own and the opposing lines, he would drop into the arms of the steady, sure captain of the Tigers and never an inch more was he to expect. Jonson was worth more on defense than all the rest of his team put together. Robinson, the little halfback for the college team, was the quickest man on his feet in the game. There was no case where a player broke through with an entirely clear field before him; but Robinson had such suspicions of speed at times that he made the people believe he could haul down any stalwart who might care to offer himself as material for a practical demonstration. Mead didn't quit for a minute. He was up and at it all the time. Fuller was a tower of aggressiveness, and little Lennox always nervy and effective, was good for the necessary ground almost invariably.

For the Miners, there were men in the blue and white who went at it as though they expected to begin development work most any minute. They uncovered several veins of football stuff that looked exceedingly good and they had the college supporters worried to the last minute. Lehmer was strictly first class goods and Moss and Johnson were there when they were wanted. Muether was the best fullback that Golden has brought here since the memorable struggle of '98, when Lewis held the high seat in the back field. Muether was one of the best examples that the game has produced here for some time of the man who is generally good for his length. He bucked and he hurdled and he didn't stop well, at least not until Jonson got him.

The game was not marred by wrangles. The officials gave good satisfaction and there was no occasion for penalties for unsportsmanlike conduct. A laughable incident in the second half occurred when Golden had 13 men on the field and all mixed up, though two of them involuntarily, in a scrimmage. Two of them were regulars who were giving way to subs, but the play didn't stop long enough for the regulars to get off the field and they were dragged into the play.

Both Coach Ewing and Coach Dudley have occasion to feel grateful for the showing made by their men. Both colleges have occasion to feel satisfied with the coaching of their teams this year.

It wasn't possible for both teams to win and the best one was the one that landed the biggest bunch of points.

The following is the detail of the play:

The First Half.

Lehmer won the toss and took the ball, giving Jonson the south goal to defend.

The team lined up for the kick-off and the spectators began to settle down in their seats to watch the game. But they didn't remain settled long. Fuller caught Muether's kick on college 5-yard line and returned through the broken field to the 50-yard line, where he went out of bounds. Jonson had an option in the next play and he took it up. Instead of carrying the ball in as is generally done he touched it in and kicked it toward the miners' goal. All the Tigers were on side and Kiteley was hot on the trail of the leather. Quick as a flash he had it and was over the line for the first five points, 28 seconds after play started, the grandstands in an uproar of enthusiasm over the spectacular and princely exhibition of skill and strategy. When the visitors in blue and white realized what had happened they lined up under their goal and watched Jonson while he converted the touchdown. Score:

Colorado college 6, School of Mines 0.

Then the struggle began anew.

Muether kicked to Lennox at college 10-yard line and the plucky little halfback stepped off a couple of white stripes before he was forced out into touch. The ball was brought in and placed on the ground for a scrimmage, but Roberts, in getting through the opposing line, acted too much like a man drowning and the ball went to the Miners for holding.

Emrich did a little prospecting between Brown and Roberts and the effort assayed two yards to the try. The place was promising but Lehmer stuttered in his pass and college got the ball again.

Lennox was booked for a gain of five around left tackle and he all but made it. Fuller bombarded the line between Kiteley and Hale and the try netted a yard and first down. Robinson skirted right end for the width of the field but his gain was only half a yard. Golden was penalized 10 yards for off-side play. Lennox tried again but it was hard ploughing, Richards being in evidence, and when Lennox was downed there was still 2½ to be made. Fuller tried left tackle and the 2½ and made one better than first down. Lennox tried the same hole and made a half, whereupon the college brought big Brown around and through between Hill and Estes, the play netting five and first down again.

At this point Force, Golden's right tackle, received a bad wrench in the side, which compelled him to retire from the game. Emrich moved up into the line in Force's place and Moss went at left half.

Lennox tried left end but had little room and went out of bounds with a loss of two. Fuller kicked to Muether, who was downed in his tracks at his own 45-yard line, the promptness with which he was downed costing the college 15 yards. Muether kicked a long punt but it was a little wild and the ball was declared in touch at the college 30-yard line.

Robinson tried right end again, with little success, netting a foot. Fuller dove through between Sill and Palsgrove for a gain of six yards and Lennox, in a spirited dash, followed suit for a like gain. Fuller tried the spot again but it seemed to be the breast of the drift, the gain being but a yard. He didn't want to stop, however, so he told Nead and Reed to make a place for him. Middlekamp and Palsgrove couldn't hold and the dashing Tiger fullback ripped off a run of seven yards, the longest in the game up to this time.

The repeated rushes on Palsgrove's position laid him out and another change occurred in the Golden lineup. Hill moved out to tackle, Emrich went in at guard.

Lennox responded to the next call with three around left end, and Mead was downed after the next rush with three more to the good, having eluded the Golden left wing. Robinson tried the same trick and got a yard, Fuller following with four through Golden's right side. Golden got off-side again and it cost 10 Abernathey footprints. Fuller dodged around right end for four and Reed came back around left for three. The Tigers unlawfully interfered with the opponents in the next scrimmage and the Miners were given the pigskin.

Muether here began the kind of play that made the Tigers use smelling salts half a dozen times in the play. Kiteley and Brown, college left center, had been Dudley's target in training since the Golden coach saw the college-Boulder game. Muether tried the hole and nine big, long yards were his reward. Johnson tried the same place and got a yard. He then tried left end for three and right end for three more. Left end was tried again by the same man and he stepped nine of them to the good. Moss tried right and made four and Johnson made six more around left. Play was now near the 55-yard line. Muether kept up the furious work with a five-yard gain through the middle of the college right wing, and then the Tigers got the ball again on off-side play.

Nead needed only a chance and he made four around left. Fuller tried right center again for three and Mead made five around Kiteley's right. Fuller attacked the same spot and made eight and Lennox went straight through for three, Mead following in the next play on the same point, outside college right tackle, for three more. Fuller went outside college left tackle for four and Brown whirled around Jonson and Kiteley for a gain of five. Lennox made two through same place and Mead made a half around right end. Fuller tried to part Golden's right wind but the defense was too much and the ball went to the Miners on downs, the first time that it had thus changed possession in the game.

Muether hurdled over Nead and the college left wing for half a yard better than first down. It looked bad again for the locals. Moss got around Roberts for four yards and Jonson did likewise for two. Jonson tried right end for no gain and Middlekamp made three around Nead. Muether's kick saved the visitors the loss of the ball on downs, driving the leather from his own 27 to the college 46-yard line to Jonson, who gained little on the return.

Lennox tried left end and made four and a half, Fuller went in on invitation of Kiteley and Brown and full five yards, and then Mead, in a beautiful, spirited effort around outside Roberts, in which he was knocked down twice but recovered himself, netted 20 yards, the longest and most spectacular gain by carrying the ball in the game. Fuller tried right center again but didn't have the ball with him.

Moss got two left of his own tackle and Muether tried the same place for nothing. Jonson tried his own side and made good for first down. Muether made four through left center and six through right; then tried left end for three fourths. The next three downs gave Golden's one intricate formation a fair trial and put it out of the game. The ends were called back and made a close formation, the first appearance of the formation causing some doubt as to its legitimacy. It was good, however, and Middlekamp, who came out of the bunch with the ball, gave the tiger a seven-yard score. There was an impediment in the next attempt at the same play. A third effort, on second down, netted a yard, whereupon Muether kicked to Fuller, who caught the ball at his own 25-yard line and was downed there with it.

Bate made three through left wing and Mead made three in a right circle. Fuller bucked for 2½ and Lennox made 6, going through right center like a profane expression through the lips of a man who had had a corn walked on. Robinson carried the ball three yards through left tackle and Fuller followed him for five. Nead made all but two in the same way and Fuller made it better than five with a yard and a half in the fourth consecutive gain between Force and Richards of the Golden team. Robinson was called on and ran through fast but didn't have the ball and the fumble gave it to Golden on the college 42-yard line.

Golden here started in to score.

Moss ran around right end for half a yard gain and Muether went to the right of center for five and then for three, following this with two around left. Moss made 11 around left tackle and Muether took two more to right of center. Moss made two and Muether three. Muether three more, and then four through to left of tackle and then six to right of center. Play was at the C. C. 25-yard line. Jonson made two to left of tackle and then Lehmer, with a double-pass, took some starch out of black and gold stock certificates with an 18-yard dash around left end. He was downed by Robinson on the college nine-yard line. Muether made half a yard between right tackle and end and then seven around left tackle. Emrich and given the try for the touchdown and made it, going around left tackle while the Miners and their friends raised a war-whoop of enthusiasm. It didn't last as long as it should have, however, as the easy try for goal was no good, Muether kicking wild. Score:

Colorado college 6, School of Mines 5.

Three minutes and 10 seconds to play.

Jonson kicked and a touchback resulted. Two or three plays closed the half, Golden having the ball on the college 20-yard line when time was called.

Second Half.

Jonson kicked to Lehmer at Golden's five-yard line, who returned the ball to the 25-yard line. Muether went around left tackle for no gain, and then to right of center for four, and then kicked to Fuller, who was downed in the middle of the field.

Mead circled right for two and Nead made four around left tackle. Jonson, receiving the ball from Mead on a double pass, ran across the field but failed to gain on it. Nead circled left tackle for a gain of six and Fuller went to right of center for five. Mead and Nead carried the ball for gains of two and five respectively and Robinson got around right end for 12 yards, downing the ball on Golden's 20-yard line. Mead circled right tackle for three and a half and Fuller made it first down to right of center. Lennox made three to left of center and Brown went between right guard and tackle for two more. Reed made a yard and a half around left and Fuller made two to left of Brown, the ball being downed on the Miners' seven-yard line, where it was fumbled on the next play.

Moss shot through between left tackle and guard and started for the goal, with only Fuller ahead of him. He did not get to Fuller, however, Robinson bringing him down from behind after 25 yards had been covered. Moss then made five and three yards around left tackle and right end respectively, excellent tackling by Jonson bringing him down in both plays. Middlekamp circled right for one and Muether kicked to Fuller, who received the ball on the college 50-yard line.

Lennox made two and a half straight through right wing and Fuller made three through left. Reed tried left end and made a yard and Robinson was downed for no gain in a try around right. Jonson kicked to Lehmer at the Miners' 35-yard line.

Muether tried left tackle for no gain and Moss circled right end for a gain of seven. He then went straight through left for one and a half and Muether made gains of two and five to left of tackle and right of center, Jonson again being conspicuous for his excellent tackling. Muether made one and two to left of center and Johnson made three to left of tackle, following this with a left end run for five. Moss made a yard to left of center and Muether five to left of tackle. Another gain of five by Muether put the ball on the college 25-yard line. Muether went through to right of center for seven yards but Jonson carried him back bodily for five and two yards was his gain. Moss made six through the left wing and followed it with three through the same place and three more to right of center. He then tried right end but was downed by Fuller for no gain. The next five yards were made by Moss in four and a half around left end and one to right of center. A hitch in the pass gave the college the ball on her own 34-yard line.

The college here started in and after 10 plays, in which Brown, carrying the ball between right guard and tackle, played an important part, had advanced the ball to the center of the field and invaded the enemy's territory for eight yards. Golden here took the ball on downs and started in to win the territory back.

Three plays netted a first down and one yard more and two more plays forced the Miners to kick. Muether kicked 20 yards to Jonson, who received the ball on his own 33-yard line and returned it to the 50-yard line. The college here started in to put the game safe.

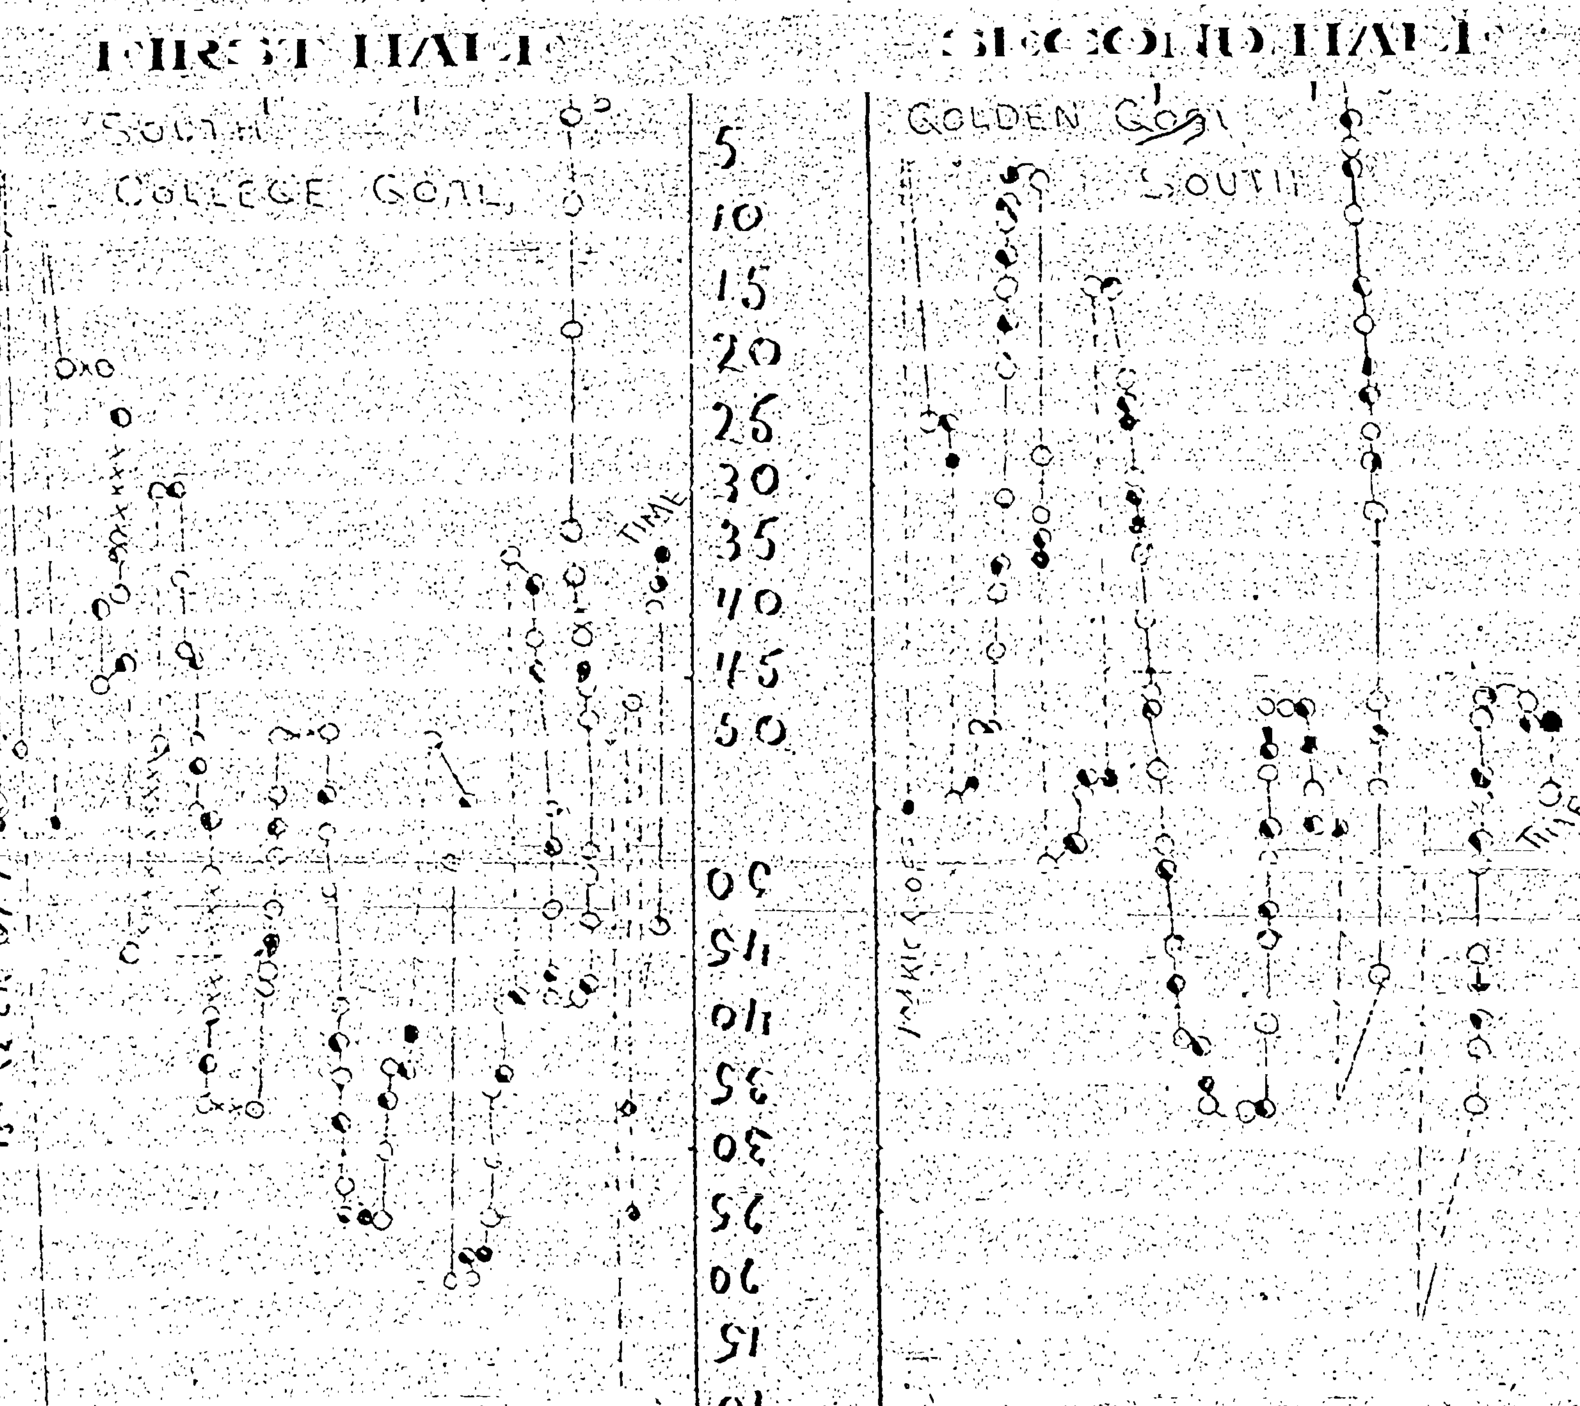

Robinson circled right end for nine yards. Dudley didn't care for the situation a bit and ordered Sill into the game to replace Muethen and sent Robinson in at quarter, Lehmer going out. Before the two men who were being displaced had reached the sidelines, Brown went around right tackle, registering 14 yards, and the two men who were leaving the game were involuntarily involved in the scrimmage that took place when he was tackled. The fact that there were 13 Mines players on the field created havoc in the mind of Hester, a baseball probability for Colorado college, and he seems to have been just about the only person on the field to grasp the situation. He conferred with Parkard and then ran across the field to right matters. Referee Abernathey was inclined to be severe upon his volunteer assistant, but when he realized that the man had valuable information to impart he accepted it with grace. The situation, however, by this time had righted itself.

Advances through the lines with an occasional short one around left end finally brought the ball to the Miners' 10-yard line and it was plain that, barring another fumble, the Tigers were very likely to score again. By this time D'Arcy had replaced Estes at center. Brown went through right wing again for four yards and Fuller followed through the same hole for first down. Golden was putting up a terrific defense. Fuller tried the left wing and made but a yard and a half. Another onslaught at the same point, backed by the supremest effort of the entire college team, proved sufficient to put the sturdy fullback over the line and another hard-earned touchdown was registered. The kick was easy and although there was little room to spare it went true and the touchdown was converted. Score:

Colorado college 12, School of Mines 5.

After the kick-off, in which Lennox made a pretty return of 17 yards, bucking tackles again advanced the ball 25 yards toward the Golden goal, where a fumble again gave it to the Miners. Moss made a yard to left of left tackle and Sill kicked to Mead, who caught the ball and was downed near the center of the field. The whistle sounded and the game was over.

In the last two minutes of play Coach Ewing replaced several Colorado college men by substitutes who had worked hard in practice and whom he desired to give a varsity "C" in return for their work. Warner replaced Kiteley, Jones replaced Brown and McClintock replaced Reed. The participation of these men in a championship game entitles each to wear a varsity "C" on their sweater, an honor which the men have earned by hard practice.

C. S. W. C. DEFEATED

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Nov. 28.—At Union park this afternoon the aggregation of pigskin kickers representing the Colorado Springs Wheel club was defeated in a hard-fought contest by the 11 husky young men wearing the colors of the Cripple Creek Athletic club. When time was called at the end of the second half the score stood 10 to 5 in the locals' favor. It was an ideal day for the contest and fully 1,000 spectators were in the stand and crowded along the sidelines to cheer the locals on to victory. For the first few minutes of play it looked like a walk-away for the heavier men comprising the visitors' team. Half Backs Harbert and Bell and Full Back Bates made repeated gains of from two to 10 yards and they could not be stopped. A fumble allowed Half Back Crosley, the star player of the locals, to carry the ball back several yards. The visitors again secured the ball on downs and Full Back Bates carried it over the line for a touchdown. No goal was kicked. After the second kick-off, straight line bucks by Half Back Crowe and Full Back Beam proved great gainers for the locals. At this juncture came the feature of the game. Half Back Crosley took the ball and made a 40-yard run around right end. He was stopped by Mitchell, who made a pretty tackle five yards from the Colorado Springs goal line. On the next down Crosley went through the line for a touchdown. McNeeley missed a difficult goal and the score was tied. A few minutes play ended the half.

Cripple came up strong in the second half, while Colorado Springs showed the effects of the high altitude. The back field of the locals, assisted by excellent team work, hit the line for big gains and soon had the game won. Full Back Beam made a touchdown. McNeeley missed the goal. During the balance of the game the ball was in the center of the field.

Several times during the contest Mayor F. J. Crane was called to act in his professional capacity of doctor. The local boys were quite lucky in the way of injuries, but Colorado Springs suffered greatly. In the second half Bates, the visitors' full back, was knocked unconscious and was relieved. He is little the worse for his injuries tonight. The game was free from other unpleasant features.

D. A. C. 29-BOULDER 0

Denver, Nov. 28.—In the annual championship football game between the University of Colorado and the Denver Athletic club, played on the D. A. C. field here today, the former was defeated by a score of 29 to 0. The Boulder team was unable to withstand the rushes of the big Athletic men who found little difficulty in breaking through the light Boulder line. The Boulder men made a plucky fight and although at times half of their team were lying stretched out on the ground only one man was forced to permanently leave the field. The average weight of the Athletic team was 15 pounds more to the man and their forward line was a veritable stone wall of defense. The game was devoid of sensational features. "Indian" MacAndrews, half back for D. A. C. kicked an easy goal from field but when Boulder tried the same thing Captain Rothwell of the Athletics tore through the line and blocked the kick and by kicking the ball along the ground sent it across Boulder's goal line. The ball was brought back and put in play on Boulder's five-yard line. D. A. C. forced us back over the line for a touchdown. With the game safe for the Athletic club several subs were put in at the beginning of the second half.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Nov. 28. D. A. C. 29, State University 0.

A record-breaking crowd saw the yellow and white of Boulder fairly dragged in the mire of defeat by the cherry and black at the D. A. C. park this afternoon. A large part of Boulder and all of the population of Denver, except those who were celebrating Young Corbett's victory, were there and saw the University boys put up a plucky and sportsmanlike fight in the face of overwhelming defeat. The D. A. C. team of today was far from the ragged and careless team one saw play the Wheel Club last Saturday. Every play was good and every man played to win. The backs were the fastest ever seen on a Denver gridiron, and it is hard to praise any one man, for all deserved as much as ordinarily falls to a football player's lot. Boulder was never in the running, never at any time in the game did they stand a chance of endangering the Athletic goal save once in the second half when they worked down to the 20-yard line where Denver held and a Princeton kick was called for under favorable circumstances, but the club men broke through, blocked the kick and Captain Rothwell kicked the ball down to the Boulder five-yard line where it was secured by a student, and the very next lineup there was a fumble and D. A. C. fell on the ball behind the University lines for its third touchdown.

The story of the scoring is soon told. By hard and consistent football, the D. A. C. scored two touchdowns in the first half and one in the second half, which with the one above described and a beautiful drop kick from the field by MacAndrews, told the tale and the Boulder contingent, loyal and enthusiastic to the last, went home defeated.

CORNELL BEAT PENNSY

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, Nov. 28. The University of Pennsylvania football team ended its disastrous season today with a crushing defeat at the hands of the Cornell eleven, the Ithaca boys scoring 24 points to the Quakers' 6. It was the first time since the two universities have played football together that Cornell has been able to conquer Pennsylvania. All through the contest the red and blue players fought their opponents every inch of the way, but the doughty boys from New York state were superior to them in every department of the game except in punting. No matter how hard the Pennsylvanians tried Cornell was always there to meet them. Cornell's offense was powerful. It seemed little difference where they tried—through the center, against the tackles or around the ends—Pennsylvania was able to hold them not more than a half dozen times. The visitors also got into the play better and quicker than the home men, which counted for much in the mass plays. A notable feature of Cornell's attack was the fine interference for the runner in open play. Two of her touchdowns

NEWS NOTES FROM DENVER

Thanksgiving Day Was Generally Observed Throughout the City In Various Ways.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Denver, Nov. 28. Thanksgiving was observed in this city today by nearly every resident. The day of itself was perfect and the people laid aside business cares and devoted the time to worship, visiting and pleasure. All of the stores and public offices were closed as were also the public buildings. During the morning services were held in many of the churches, after which the people repaired to their homes for the annual family reunion. Thanksgiving dinner. Charitably inclined people saw to it that the needy were well fed and entertained. The Denver Post had 750 covers for as many newsboys spread at the Brown Palace hotel. The Salvation Army and kindred societies furnished dinner to all who came within their barracks. Well-to-do citizens sent heaping baskets of good things to the poor families. The hospitals and alms houses provided extra dishes and even the fair habitants of the penal institutions were treated to a turkey dinner, with celery trimmings and coffee with cream. The afternoon was spent in families visiting, at the foot ball games, or in the theaters. In the later standing room only signs were displayed long before the hour for the curtain to rise. In the alms institutions the afternoon was whiled away in the musical programme and dancing. At the city jail in fact the prisoners were allowed to give a farce comedy for the entertainment of the others and at the county jail the prisoners enjoyed an old time country dance. The evening was given over to fire-side chats. Thanksgiving religious services and the opera. During the day the street urchins were entertained by charitably inclined men throwing coins to them and allowing them to scramble for them. In all today was one of the simplest yet most enjoyable holidays in the history of the city.

The four people who were reported injured in the Wabash wreck in Michigan who live in Denver, reside in the suburbs Globeville and Elyria. Mrs. Cassoson has lived in Globeville a number of years and is the wife of a quite prosperous resident of that suburb. She was just returning from Austria where she had been to dispose of some property. She was the chaperone of the three other ladies who were hurt and who were coming here to settle permanently. Miss Collon is a sister of Joseph Collon, a butcher of Globeville. Miss Cassoy is the niece of Joseph Plut of Elyria and is coming to this city to visit her uncle. From here she would have gone to Leadville where her parents reside. Catherine Plut is a daughter of Joseph Plut of Elyria. She is 17 years old. She remained behind in Austria until her parents should send for her, when she was coming on to this city.

The Denver Fire and Police board has completed its annual report, which will be filed with Major Wright tomorrow. The report devotes a large amount of space to the fact that Denver needs more police protection. It will ask for 50 additional patrolmen to be provided for and will say that this city has the smallest number of patrolmen of any city in the United States, when wealth, population and area are considered. The report will ask for an appropriation of $240,000 for police protection alone, of $246,000, as against $170,000 last year. The report will also ask for an increased fire department. The request will be along the lines as outlined by the chamber of commerce and which if granted will insure practically secure fire protection. $223,451.00 is the amount that will be asked for to meet the expenses of the fire department this year, as against $155,000 for 1901.

The Denver & Northwestern Railway Co. will open its line for business next Sunday as far as Arvada. The line will connect with the Denver City Tramway company at Berkeley. The fare from the center of Denver to Arvada will be 10 cents. The new line runs through a very rich agricultural country and will provide hourly service. The line will be extended to the coal fields in the foothills as rapidly as possible.

A building which will cost $5,000 is being erected in the city park and it will be known as the Colorado Museum of Natural History. In it will be kept the property of the art clubs of the city and state, and it will also be furnished with a number of very beautiful artists' productions. The building, its furnishings and its maintenance will be largely from public subscription.

Duncan McKay of 1434 Thirty-second street, was found dead in his room this morning. It is supposed he committed suicide. He was 30 years old and came to Denver from Battle Creek, Mich., some time ago.

The jury in the case of Alfred Thorman, the 14-year-old boy, who killed Gus Reeghan, in eastern Arapahoe county, last summer, today brought in a verdict of involuntary manslaughter. Under this he can be sentenced to the county jail from one day to one year. The case was given to the jury at 11 o'clock last night.

The funeral of Ex-Governor Waite will take place in the Methodist church in Aspen, Colorado, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Sylvester E. Ellis. The pall-bearers are Judge Shumate, Ex-Judge Thomas Bucker, Judge Rodgers, William Stone, Frederick Spackman and Frederick Light. Interment will be in the Aspen Grove cemetery.

The fact that you cannot be present at the charity ball should not prevent your subscribing for one or two tickets.

NEWS NOTES FROM VICTOR

Victor Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Victor, Nov. 28. Thanksgiving day was quite generally observed in Victor today. The banks and the postoffice were closed and business was suspended in nearly all of the retail stores. Union thanksgiving services were held at the First Methodist church and were largely attended. The church was appropriately decorated, and the exercises were very impressive. Mayor Nelson Franklin read President Roosevelt's proclamation, which was followed by choir music and a reading from the scripture by Rev. James MacLaughlin of St. Mark's Episcopal church. To-night Company L, N. G. C., is giving a stand ball at Armory hall, while at the Gold Coin club, Joe Newman and company are entertaining a large audience.

Charles Yohe, a contractor employed at the Deadwood No. 3, fell 23 feet down the shaft of that property this morning about 11 o'clock and escaped with a broken leg and a crushed foot. At the time of the accident Yohe was doing some timbering about 23 feet from the bottom of the shaft. He was on a ladder when he lost his balance and fell. His right foot was struck by the falling timber and crushed. He was taken to his home at Independence, where Dr. Shepherd attended his injuries.

CRIPPLE CREEK NEWS NOTES

Taxpayers Will Vote on the Wade Franchise Today—Small Child Bitten.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Cripple Creek, Nov. 28. The resident taxpayers of Cripple Creek will tomorrow vote upon the question of whether or not a franchise shall be granted to Edgar E. Wade for the erection and operation of an electric light plant in this city. It is a special election and it is expected that between 600 and 700 votes will be cast. The proposed franchise has been the talk of the citizens of the city for the past several weeks. At the session of the chamber of commerce on Monday night, that body recommended that the taxpayers defeat the franchise. Both Edgar E. Wade, the promoter of the franchise, and M. L. Stearn of the Gold Belt Consolidated Electric company are in the city tonight.

Herman, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shotkey, was badly bitten this afternoon by a dog owned by Fred Draeseke. The boy was playing with another little fellow when the dog attacked him, badly lacerating his left ear and his face and neck. A physician was called and several stitches taken in the wound, after it was thoroughly cauterized.

A beautiful floral tribute was tonight expressed to Aspen by the Cripple Creek district executive board of the Western Federation of Miners to be placed upon the casket containing the remains of Ex-Governor Davis H. Waite. The funeral of the dead governor will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Aspen.

Fred Grube, the head of the well-known ore hauling firm in the district, had a narrow escape at his lease upon the Ingham property this afternoon. While in the workings of the property, he fell and sustained a dislocated shoulder and slight bruises. He was brought to his home in this city and his injuries attended.

Dr. T. W. Sims, charged with malpractice, was released from the county jail today upon $3,000 bond being furnished.

The result of the Corbett-McGovern fight at Hartford, Conn., came as a very agreeable surprise to the sporting fraternity of the camp this afternoon. Quite a little money changed hands on the result. Corbett in the past has fought quite a number of battles here, and tonight a congratulatory telegram was sent to him by his admirers.

Watch Carefully Its Effect on You.

Any brain worker who depends on thought for his success in life, uses up daily, by brain work, a varying amount of the delicate particles of potash and albumen, of which the brain and nerve centers are composed.

This breaking down of the little cells each day, from brain work, is a natural process, and the cells can readily be rebuilt from the right sort of food, if the system is not interfered with by drugs. If brain fag or nervous prostration sets in, the evidence is plain that nature is not rebuilding as fast as work is tearing down. There is some reason. What is it? Look first to the coffee cup, for coffee is known to interfere with and prevent the proper nourishment of the nerves in highly organized people.

Frequently the trouble first shows in dyspepsia, lack of power of the bowels to operate properly or palpitation of the heart or some other lack of vitality and healthy vigor. Then comes brain fag and that tremendous collapse called nervous prostration. There is but one thing for a sensible man or woman to do, quit coffee absolutely. "Hard to do," you say. Take up Postum Food Coffee, use it regularly, have it well made, so it tastes good. You will find a well-defined, unmistakable change in your health, and there is a reason for it.

You will have become free from the breaking down force of coffee, and, on the other hand, you will be taking a powerful, nourishing liquid food which quickly rebuilds the new cells. These are facts, profound facts, ready for any one to prove to their own satisfaction by actual use. Postum Food Coffee is made at the famous pure food factories of the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich., and is used by brain workers all over the world. Don't call it a "substitute" for coffee; leave out the coffee proposition altogether. Postum is a liquid food and a true food drink.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Wall Paper and Paint Company Will Erect a Large Factory—Anti Gambling Meeting.

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette

Pueblo, Nov. 28. The Floreman Wall Paper & Paint Co. will soon commence the erection of a large four-story factory and warehouse on Main street between First and Richmond avenue, on the lots just north of the Iowa house. The transfer in the property which has been made is known as lots 1 and 2 of Thompson's sub-division of the city of Pueblo. It was purchased from Mrs. Ella J. Thompson at a consideration of $2,500. The factory will be well constructed and in addition to its four stories will have a large basement that will be utilized for storage purposes. With a frontage of 62 1-2 feet on Main street the building will widen toward the rear until it reaches a width of 80 feet. The lots are 125 feet deep and the building will extend their whole length. Over 100 hands will be employed. All the standard grades of house paints, floor paints, oils and painters' supplies will be manufactured.

It is expected that the mass meeting called for tomorrow evening in the rotunda of the Central block will be a large one. Today the subject of open gambling is the talk of the city, even in the Thanksgiving sermons. At the churches vigorous language was used in denunciation of the action of officials in allowing gambling to continue. Rev. Mr. Thachell and the Rev. Dr. Weaver were particularly vehement in their protests on behalf of their congregations.

Never in the history of Pueblo has Thanksgiving day been so generally observed as it has been today. Only a few stores were open early in the morning and they soon closed. The office buildings were deserted, and an air of quietude prevailed throughout the city, which is seldom seen even on Sunday. The merchants declare the Thanksgiving trade has been the largest they have enjoyed in many years, and the larger proportion of them gave their employes the full holiday. Union services of thanksgiving were held in accordance with the time-honored custom. The Protestant churches united in service on the Mesa at the Congregational church, and on the north side at the First Baptist church. Holy Trinity Episcopal and St. John's united at the latter church, where the Rev. Dr. W. O. Cone delivered the discourse. The Catholic churches held their services as usual.

Mrs. Joan F. Sperry of this city, the Colorado representative of the Boys and Girls National Curfew association, has just sent her report to the national convention of the association, which meets in Indianapolis. In the report Mrs. Sperry reported that the curfew law had come to Colorado to stay, and that it had decreased crime thereby a large per cent. Officials of the association declare that where the law has been put into faithful operation it has had the effect of lessening crime 50 per cent. Nearly all the towns of any size in the state now have a law of this kind in force and cities throughout the country are rapidly falling into line.

The Y. M. C. A. gave their usual Thanksgiving reception this evening. An excellent program had been arranged and a special invitation had been extended to young men away from home. The meeting was a large and peculiarly happy one.

George H. Voss, a switch engine fireman, had his right leg crushed and broken in a peculiar manner this morning. The engine was passing a car on which was loaded a lot of truss rods. One of them protruded over so far that it passed into the cab of the switch engine and caught Voss on the hip. He was removed to the Sisters hospital. The cab of the switch engine was considerably damaged.

A rare entertainment will be given by the members of the Epworth league at the Broadway M. E. church tomorrow night. Miss Rachel Bauman and Mrs. Stewart, one of the most popular singers of Pueblo, are on the program, which insures a rich treat for those who attend.

The races given by the Pueblo Driving club this afternoon were largely attended and the greatest interest was evidenced in the Star-Journal cup in the 2:30 classes. The gift of the trophy is contingent upon the most heats in four matinees. The results today were as follows:

BRITISH REPORT ON FOOD PRESERVATIVES

By Associated Press.

London, Nov. 28. The department committee of the local government board appointed in 1899 to investigate food preservatives and coloring materials reports that it is common knowledge that the food producing capabilities of this country do not suffice for the needs of the population. A total prohibition of preserving methods is likely to be attended with serious results to the public health, as large quantities of food possessing highly nutritive element might be held from the poorer classes or be liable to be condemned in a condition of incipient putrefaction.

The committee finds that of the preservative agents in common use that on one alone rests any well founded suspicion that it is likely to inflict injury and the committee further says that no direct evidence of injury from the use of preservatives has been brought before it. The only proposition recommended in regard to the coloring pigments is the use of copper sulphate coloring of tinned peas or similar articles.

The committee recommends that the use of a certain preservative agent, previously referred to in foods or drinks be absolutely prohibited, and recommends that the prohibition of any preservative or coloring whatever in milk. Mixtures of boric acid and borax, not exceeding 0.5 per cent, are permitted in butter and a certain class of imitation butter.

TO RESCUE MINERS AT UNALASKA

By Associated Press.

Washington, Nov. 28.—The report that about 115 miners from Cape Nome are in serious straits at Unalaska, Alaska, as the result of the stranding of the schooner Ralph J. Long, is being investigated by the treasury department with a view to their relief in the necessity exists. Captain Shoemaker, chief of the revenue cutter service today telegraphed instructions to an official at San Francisco to investigate the story and if the miners are in distress, a revenue cutter, probably the McCulloch, will be ordered to Unalaska. The cutter will bring back the stranded miners or bring back the schooner to port in case the latter is able to sail.

DEPUTIES ADOPTED THE CHINESE LOAN

By Associated Press.
Paris, Nov. 28.—The chamber of deputies today, by a vote of 335 to 213, adopted the Chinese loan, after rejecting two paragraphs of the final article which the commission had inserted against the wish of the government and which would have excluded religious congregations from the benefits of the loan and which also provided that indemnities be distributed to private claimants only as China paid the installments. Both paragraphs were thrown out by big majorities.

THE DEATH OF GEORGE M. PULLMAN

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, Nov. 28. George M. Pullman, son of the late millionaire car builder, died at his country home in San Mateo this morning.

He had been ill several weeks with pneumonia, but until Tuesday his condition was not considered serious. On that day he suffered a severe relapse and thenceforth grew steadily weaker. This morning about 3 o'clock he was attacked by a hemorrhage and within a few minutes passed away. Arrangements are being made to take Pullman's body to Chicago for interment. The deceased was married for the second time a few weeks ago at Reno, Nev., to Mrs. Brazell. He was 26 years old.

AN ITALIAN ANARCHIST SAID TO BE IN CHICAGO

By Associated Press.
Rome, Nov. 28. The newspaper Fanfulla credits Signor Giolotti, minister of the interior, with the statement that Louis Granotti is now in Chicago, where he is being shadowed by the police.

According to a dispatch to the Associated Press from Milan November 25 Louis Granotti, an accomplice of Bresci, the assassin of King Humbert, was that day sentenced to life imprisonment. The dispatch also said that Granotti had not yet been captured.

SHORTAGE OF THE LOUISVILLE TREASURER

By Associated Press.
Louisville, Ky., Nov. 28. Beyond the statement made last night to Mayor Granger by one of the expert accountants, that a shortage amounting to $23,600 had been found in the books of the former city treasurer, Stuart R. Young, who committed suicide yesterday evening, nothing definite is known as how the accounts stand between the city and its former treasurer. It is said that the accountants will require two weeks of constant work to go over the books. During his four years' term as city treasurer Mr. Young handled $11,000,000.

There were various reports today as to the amount of the alleged shortage, some placing it at $50,000 and some even higher, but they are all surmises according to the men who are examining the books.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR FIRE IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press.
New York, Nov. 28.—Half a million dollars is the estimate of the loss by a fire this evening in the vicinity of Ninth street at the East river. Several firemen were hurt, but none seriously.

The blaze started in the plant of W. E. Updegrove and Bros., manufacturers of boxes, veneers and fine wood work, and this firm was the principal sufferer. One of its buildings was a seven-story structure, while those surrounding it were one-story buildings. All of Updegrove & Bros.' mill was destroyed. From the Standard Oil company's depot on Eleventh street thousands of gallons of oil were drained into the river to prevent a great explosion and resulting conflagration.

What started the fire is not known. It swiftly spread to all the Updegrove buildings. Within and surrounding these were great quantities of kiln dried wood to feed upon. By the hardest of work the firemen kept the flames from reaching three big lumber yards adjoining. The walls of the larger Updegrove building fell in and crushed the stable of the Standard Oil company in the rear. All the horses had been removed.

CRAZY SNAKE IS CAUSING TROUBLE

By Associated Press.
Guthrie, O. T., Nov. 28. A special to the Capital from Tulsa, I. T., says:

"Crazy Snake, who led the rebellion last spring against the government, is causing the Creek council considerable trouble. The Snake band will send a strong delegation to Washington to protest against the deeding of Creek lands.

"A joint resolution was passed unanimously today by both houses of the Creek council demanding that deeds be issued immediately and at Okimulgee instead of Muskogee. Chief Porter will probably sign the resolution for such change. The delay has caused widespread discontent. The treaty of last May promised deeds immediately and the Indians only ask justice. The Dawes commission is unable to handle the question."

DEATH OF JUROR IN THE BALLIETT CASE

By Associated Press.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 28. This morning Charles Meinkey of Fontanelle, Ia., a juror in the Balliett mining case now on trial in the United States district court, was found dead in his room in the Grelle house. It was evident that he blew out the gas before retiring and was asphyxiated. The death will not interfere with the trial and the case will proceed with 11 jurors tomorrow. Meinkey was a farmer and estimated to be worth $50,000.

VOTED TO ALTER UNTER DEN LINDEN

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Nov. 28. After a lively debate today the municipal council by a vote of 61 to 55, adopted the plans for altering the Unter den Linden that were approved by Emperor William.

During his speech in which he accused the members of the municipal council in lacking backbone, and in which he flippantly referred to the deference shown the emperor's wishes, the Socialist deputy, Herr Singer, was called to order.

ENTENTE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND JAPAN

By Associated Press.
St. Petersburg, Nov. 28.—The czar granted an audience to Marquis Ito, the Japanese statesman, at Tsarskoe-Selo this afternoon and later Count Lamsdorff, the Russian foreign minister, gave a gala dinner in honor of the visitors.

An effective entente between Russia and Japan is regarded as the probable outcome of the audience between the czar and Marquis Ito, although it is not anticipated that permanent or binding obligations will be undertaken by either government.

CHICAGO OBSERVERS REPORT A COMET

By Associated Press.
Chicago, Nov. 28.—A comet was visible here in the southern sky this evening. Its position as viewed from the Auditorium tower in which the United States weather bureau is situated was about 10 degrees southeast from the zenith. It was difficult to judge of its length, for the reason that it was pointed directly upward and was apparently going from the earth, but Professor Cox, in charge of the bureau, said that, in his judgment, it was about two degrees long.

"I am not an astronomer," said Professor Cox, "but I feel very positive it was a comet. It was plainly visible at 5:30 o'clock and we could see it at 7 o'clock when it became invisible on account of the increasing haze. All the men in the office here saw it. It could not have been a meteor, for it remained practically in the same position during the entire time it was visible, and no meteor would have done that. Its apparent immovability shows, too, that it was at a great distance from the earth. There was a head which was plainly visible to the naked eye, and still more apparent when viewed through a glass. There was also a well defined tail."

The comet was seen by many people on the streets as well as by the officials of the weather bureau.

Pastimes Club Had a Successful Shoot

The Pastimes Gun club of Colorado City held a most successful turkey shoot yesterday on their grounds north of Colorado City. The members of the club asserting that it was about the best the club ever had. Between 50 and 60 people were present to join in or watch the sport.

The shoot began about 9 o'clock yesterday morning and was not finished until well into the afternoon, two sessions being held. There were numerous events and the prize in every case was a turkey, excepting in two of the afternoon events in which the prizes were rabbits. The successful contestants in the morning were C. H. Watson, who won two turkeys, and W. L. Fisher, C. F. Geiger, John F. Murray and Mr. McFarland, each of whom won one. In the afternoon J. R. Wales carried off all the honors, winning a turkey and two rabbits.

In view of the success of the shoot yesterday, it is expected that the club will arrange for other contests of like nature to take place about Christmas time. The officers of the organization are: A. L. Rich of Colorado Springs, president; Frank Ferris, captain; John F. Murray, secretary.

Race Meeting Drew a Good Attendance

The race meet which was held yesterday morning at Roswell track under the auspices of the Gentlemen's Riding and Driving club of this city, was well attended and those present were privileged to witness some good and exciting sport.

There were two match events and one free-for-all, each one being hotly contested. The first race, a half-mile trot, was between S. S. Bernard's Doc Shideler and M. F. Kaufman's Peter, and was won by the former, the best time being 1:09½.

The second match race was a half-mile trot, the horses being Susie R., owned by K. Macdermid, and C. K. W., owned by C. K. Wiley. Susie R. won in 1:12.

In the free-for-all the contesting horses were Mr. Hooper's Russet Clay, Mr. Wiley's Eva Victor, and Dr. Bancock's John R. The latter won, time 1:08½.

Construction Gangs Still on a Strike

The situation of the strike of the hundred or more laborers on the new Cheyenne line of the Suburban company is practically unchanged. The men still insist in their demands and the company refuses to have anything to do with them. The demand is for shorter hours and higher wages.

William Dooley, the leader of the strikers, stated yesterday that at a conference with Manager Frye, the statement was made that the company had a number of men on hand to take the place of the strikers and that the completion of the line would not be the least interfered with by the interruption of the strike. The strikers view this with grim indifference, saying very little but evidently determined to prevent any other laborers taking their places. The fight is between the contractors of the Cheyenne line and the men employed by them and has nothing to do with the Rapid Transit. So far, the contractors have made no statement as to its attitude toward the strikers. The latter are determined to be put on an equality in wages with the other laborers working for the Rapid Transit in other parts of the street railway system, and the contractors do not seem to be in a mood to accede to their demands.

ILL FEELING EXHIBITED TOWARD CAPTAIN PERRY

By Associated Press.
Washington, Nov. 28. Naval officers here are disconcerted at the ill feeling exhibited toward Captain Perry at Panama because he will not allow the railway to be used for the transportation of armed troops. After a careful examination of the precedents and the treaty under which the United States is now made absolutely responsible for the safety of traffic across the isthmus, they declare that Captain Perry had no alternative. Had he allowed the Colombian government forces to use the road on the Panama end as they desired, he must of necessity have yielded the same right to the Liberals who hold the Colon end of the line. The result would inevitably have been conflicts and the provisional line would prevent the free transit that Captain Perry is there to maintain. Therefore, his attitude is held by the navy department to be entirely correct. However, it is hoped the pressure will be relieved speedily by the transfer of active military operations to some other field not near the Panama railway.

UNCREDITED REPORTS OF MISS STONE'S DEATH

By Associated Press.
Constantinople, Wednesday, Nov. 27.

The Turkish authorities at Salonica hear that Miss Ellen M. Stone, the captured American missionary, and Madame Tsilka, her companion, are both dead and that their remains were buried at the village of Alidere, in the district of Dubnitza. Madame Tsilka is reported to have died after child birth and Miss Stone is said to have succumbed to grief and hardship. The brigands are alleged to have dispersed after the death of their captives.

The report is discredited at the United States legation and at the United States consulate.

The feeling here is that the strongest pressure by the United States is necessary to compel Bulgaria to effect the release of the prisoners.

Washington, Nov. 28. A report similar to the one received from Constantinople reached Washington yesterday with the additional statement that it was not credited by either Spencer Eddy, the American chargé d'affaires at Constantinople, or by Mr. Dickinson, the United States consul general.

The rumor of the death of Miss Stone and her attendant, Madame Tsilka, which reached the state department yesterday, came from Turkish sources, the first information being the call of Salonica. The two women were said to have been held captives at Vvesnel and Myesrjeza, two towns supposed to be on the Bulgarian frontier, but which have not so far been located in the atlases. The fact that both Mr. Eddy and Consul General Dickinson emphatically discredit the report of Miss Stone's death is regarded here as indicating their purpose to continue without relaxation their efforts to secure her release.

GERMANY FEARS TROUBLE.

By Associated Press.
London, Nov. 28. According to a Berlin dispatch to the Daily Mail, Count von Buelow, the imperial chancellor has succeeded in persuading the Pan-German party to shelve its intended Chamberlain interpellation in the Reichstag.

It is obvious, cables the correspondent of the Daily Mail, that the government fears trouble in case the anti-Chamberlain agitation was renewed.

PITTSBURG STRIKE.

By Associated Press.
Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 28. There appears to be no radical change in the strike situation tonight. The strikers are still making the claim that the roads are badly crippled, and the company officials are just as positive in their statement that there is practically no strike except on the Allegheny Valley road, which they say is gradually resuming normal conditions.

At a meeting of the strikers today 53 new members were taken in. Six men known as extras in the Pennsylvania yard joined the strikers today but their places were filled at once.

ROUMANIAN DIVORCE.

By Associated Press.
Berlin, Nov. 28.—The Vossische Zeitung says it learns upon reliable authority that the crown prince and princess of Roumania have mutually agreed upon a divorce, and that the crown prince intends to renounce his succession to the throne.

THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

THE PRINCIPAL work of the postoffice department in the past year, outside of its regular round of official duties, has been the attempt to suppress the abuses of the second class mail privileges, and it is natural therefore that the report of the head of that department of the national government should be directed largely to that subject.

Second class mail matter consists of newspapers sent out by publishers or news agents to regular subscribers, and it is carried at the rate of one cent a pound. The purpose of congress in establishing second class rates was undoubtedly to encourage newspaper circulation among the people and in this way to foster a knowledge of public affairs, as well as general education. For some years past, certain publishers have been taking advantage of the newspaper privileges and using them for purposes quite different from those intended by congress. For instance, certain book publishers have issued "serial libraries," which were only periodicals in the sense that consecutive volumes were published at regular intervals, and these were sent through the mails at the pound rates.

Another abuse of the second class privileges was that of certain newspapers that were published at a merely nominal rate in order to promote the sale of merchandise. For instance, a "Home Journal" would be started, and the publisher would offer for 25 cents to send the "Journal" for one year together with a premium whose apparent value would be more than 25 cents. In most cases these alleged newspapers, some of which attained enormous circulations, were of the cheapest appearance, made up of trashy fiction or miscellany, and on the poorest possible paper. Yet because of the premium system they gained a large circulation and because of their circulation they were able to get high advertising rates that were immensely profitable to their publishers.

The figures presented by the postmaster general's report show to what an extent these abuses had grown and the cost to the taxpayers. It is not surprising that under the circumstances the postoffice department should have undertaken radical measures for putting a stop to the evil, and it is pleasing to note that satisfactory results have been obtained.

Unfortunately it has happened that in some cases an injustice has been done to legitimate publications in the effort to suppress those not entitled to second class privileges. Some of the postoffice subordinates seem to have the theory that the law-making powers of the government reside in them rather than in congress and they have proceeded on the assumption that anything that tends towards the increase of newspaper circulation is contrary to the interests of the postoffice department.

No theory could be farther from the truth. The power to make laws establishing the second class of mail matter and regulating its use rests in congress and not in an executive department, and it was clearly the intention of congress in establishing that class to encourage and not to discourage newspaper reading among the people.

While we sympathize with the department in its effort to correct the abuses that have grown up in the second class mail service, it is to be hoped that the postoffice authorities will soon have reached a point in their work where it will no longer be necessary to annoy legitimate and reputable newspaper publishers, or to discourage that newspaper circulation which it was the clear intention of congress to encourage.

THE WABASH WRECK.

THE BUSINESS of railroading has been reduced almost to a science in these days. Head-end collisions of passenger trains are so rare as to be almost unheard of, and many railway men would have believed a few days ago that it was impossible that there should be a collision of that sort on one of the principal and best managed roads in the country.

The awful disaster on the Wabash line comes as a rude shock and disappointment to those who had confidence in modern railway methods and practices. Nearly a hundred lives were lost outright and as many more were injured in an accident that from present reports belonged in the category of clearly avoidable wrecks.

The event certainly suggests that we are not as far advanced in railway methods as we supposed we were, and, like all other similar happenings, it shows the necessity for stricter legal safeguards to protect the lives of the traveling public. Railway discipline, however strict, is not sufficient to insure the safety of passengers, and there is need for stricter supervision to prevent accidents, and more severe investigation and punishment when they actually occur.

Some American capitalists propose to show the Londoners what a modern office building is like, and will erect one containing 6,000 offices. The London ordinances prohibit the erection of sky-scrapers, but the new building is to have a frontage on the Strand of 750 feet and will cost $10,000,000. The English view of the project is given by the Times:

It will relieve the county council of an embarrassment and will settle at one operation a multitude of architectural squabbles that would rise if the site were divided among different individuals. At the same time, it will be an object lesson of which we stand much in need.

Therefore the project deserves the best wishes of Londoners. There is needless alarm over the American invasion. It is forgotten that we are always invading other people in just the same way. The Americans have discovered that we are less enterprising at home than abroad, and we welcome their co-operation, which cannot fail to draw the Anglo-Saxon nations closer together.

MEXICAN TRADE WITH THE UNITED STATES.

AT THE time the railways were built through Mexico under American engineers and by American capital we heard a great deal of the benefits that they would bring in promoting the trade between the two countries and developing good will.

Of the good will we have recently had some conspicuous examples at the Panamerican congress, while the New York Tribune in a recent editorial comments on the increase of trade as follows:

Recent statistics of Mexican trade are highly gratifying, both from the Mexican and from the United States point of view. The remarkable increase of commerce which began about six years ago seems to be well maintained, and the character and direction of it are satisfactory. The balance of trade is still enormously in favor of Mexico, imports being less than 41 per cent. of exports. In the last fiscal year there was a considerable decrease in exports of vegetable products, due to temporary causes, while mineral and animal products, which are not so much affected by such causes, showed a fine increase. Scarcely more than one-sixth of the exports went to Europe, and the amount showed a decline from the preceding fiscal year, while there was a substantial increase in the amount sent to American countries, especially to Cuba, Guatemala and the United States. The only European countries to which Mexican exports showed a gain were Spain and Belgium, and that gain was more than offset by the heavy loss in exports to France and Great Britain.

Turning to imports into Mexico, it is to be observed that the last year showed a marked decline in amount from all parts of the world except the American continents, from which there was a large increase. There was a considerable gain from Germany, a moderate gain from Holland and a small gain from Austria-Hungary, from Italy and from Switzerland. All other European countries showed a marked decline. On the other hand, the increase in imports from the United States was considerably more than half as great as the entire mass of imports from Germany, and was much larger than the aggregate increases from all other countries in the world. Evidently the tendency of Mexican trade is toward increasing commerce with other American countries, and especially with the United States, which is precisely as it should be.

AN INTERNATIONAL NUISANCE.

THE GOVERNMENT of Turkey forfeited its right to existence long ago. It accomplishes none of the objects for which governments are instituted. It maintains its authority over its own people only by the most relentless cruelty, and massacres that are as much a part of its policy as the crushing taxation that keeps the great majority of the people plunged in poverty and ignorance. It owes its immunity from foreign interference to the jealousies of its neighbors. It habitually violates every principle of international good faith, and it is a constant menace to peace and an insuperable obstacle to progress.

There are some encouraging signs that things in Turkey are getting so bad that they must of necessity change for the better soon. The American enforcement of its claims was an eye-opener to Europe and the French success in the same line made the lesson plainer. There is hardly a nation in Europe that has not just claims against the sultan, and now they know how to make the collection. Besides that, the internal affairs of the empire, including the finances, are about as bad as they can be, and a convulsion of far-reaching consequences is likely to come at any time.

That it may come soon and that its consequences may be radical and permanent is the general wish.

VALUABLE SPECIAL EDITIONS.

A NUMBER of our state exchanges are announcing their purpose of issuing special New Year editions devoted to promoting the interests and advertising the resources of their particular localities. Such editions have an undoubted value, and they should receive the support of the communities for whose benefit they are intended.

The money spent with a local newspaper usually brings far better returns than when it is sent away to a larger city, for besides the direct advertising benefit there is the indirect value that comes on account of the exhibit of the enterprise and business resources of the community as shown by the local paper.

Wherever possible local newspapers should be encouraged in such enterprises, and the benefit received is far greater than the expense incurred by the patrons.

The Aspen Democrat is authority for the following statement:

There is not a mining camp in the state where the workmen receive the protection intended and guaranteed by the state. It is an outrage that human life should thus be made the plaything of official incapacity. Leadville, Cripple Creek, Creede, Aspen and hundreds of other camps are absolutely without the protection intended by the state. Grasping corporations care nothing for the lives of employes. Men are cheap. It costs dollars to give proper protection, but nothing to hire another employe to take the place of one killed. Proper inspection and the rigid enforcement of the law would decrease the loss of life in Colorado mines at least 75 per cent. The Democrat demands that the lives of miners be given not only theoretical but practical protection. The inspection must be fulfilled.

When the people of Colorado are ready to demand that competence and efficiency be made a test of officeholding in Colorado, fusion as a political practice will have disappeared forever.

Dr. Allen, United States minister to Korea, who has been visiting in the city for the past few days, is one of the best type of self-made Americans. He owes his official position and his influence entirely to his own merit and not at all to any "pull" or political influence. He went to Korea as a private citizen unknown and unimportant. He made his way up through his own effort and merits and received his appointment first as minister resident and after as minister plenipotentiary in recognition of his services and his ability. Dr. Allen has many personal friends in this city and has manifested his interest in it. Sometime in the future we would be glad to welcome him as a permanent resident upon the close of his official career.

The Thanksgiving football game in Colorado Springs was one of the best ever played in this city. The teams were evenly matched and both did their best to win. It was a clean game, too, free from rowdyism and meanness and one that was thoroughly enjoyed by the spectators.

The Homely Moose.

"Say, bub, I don't like to hear you make such talk as that," remonstrated Joe Lacroix. He deftly flipped a piece of ham in the spider, and as it spluttered away in the hot fat he looked at me reproachfully through the blue trail of smoke from the campfire. That trail of smoke rose on the morning breeze out over the Second Joe Mary lake in northern Maine. Joe shifted his kneeling position on the sand of the beach and continued: "Don't ever say that a moose is homely. People who call this and that animal homely are trying to fit little human rules of beauty on to creatures that God has created as they are for a purpose. You hain't the only one as sayin' that the moose is homely. I saw a piece in the paper the other day, and the writer made all sorts of mean flings at Brother Moose's Hubbard squash nose, his tailboard lip and his wire-spring hair. The feller who wrote that piece was never formally introduced to Mr. Moose in the depths of the woods. In the woods is where the moose gets his dignity. He belongs there. You can't expect him to look pretty hung up before a market for the folks to finger as they pass. His mounted head over a sideboard doesn't look like a bust of one of them Roman statues.

"Now take yourself. There you are, in rough clothes, head shaggy, not shaved fo' a week, your ball full of spruce spills and your face dirty. Now, wouldn't you be a spectacle walking down street at home in the city? The idea is, every critter to his own surroundin's. I'll bet your are slick enough when you are at home.

"You just meet a bull moose face to face in the woods! You don't think he's homely then. Of course, if you have the grit and the gun you'll shoot. But first of all he will awe you. If he feels that he doesn't inspire enough awe he will turn and trot off. For he is a modest chap. You will notice that his hair isn't rough and bristly then. It has been nicely slicked and polished by the cedar and the swamp maple. When you walk around a stuffed moose you may think that his legs are too long. But gracious me, you ought to see old Brother Bull expressing it through the woods when there are two feet of light snow on the ground. And those splay feet come in handy then. If you happen to see him at home in his 'yard' you will not wonder that his nose is of the roamin' kind. If he ate ham for breakfast, the same as you and I (and Joe hooked out my portion on a tin plate) that nose would be something to laugh at. But you watch him gather in the twigs and sprouts as he browses in the yard, or hook onto the lilypads and roots in the edge of a lake, and you'll say he 'nose' his business," and Joe cackled at his bit of a pun.

"I'll bet when he stands in a lake in a lilypad patch and looks down on his reflection in the water he is pretty well pleased with what he sees there. He would be more pleased with a snap shot of himself railroading through the deep woods at top speed, with his great antlers laid back on his shoulders, his nose sniffing at the air ahead, his great stride taking him over fallen tree trunks and through underbrush without hitch or pause. Those antlers are not in the way then—they protect his shoulders from the scrape of the bushes.

"And his eyes say, 'I've had a bull moose look at me when he didn't think I was worth tackling.

"I never realized before what contempt in a creature's countenance meant. I was out after basket stuff and had only my hatchet. I wasn't thinking of moose that day. All at once I stumbled through some undergrowth right into a yard where a big moose was browsing. I looked at him. He slowly lowered his head and looked at me. The only thing I could think of was a man staring at me over his specs. The bell under his neck and the bristle of grizzled hair around his head gave Brother Moose the appearance of wearing whiskers. His first look of amazement changed to one of the most supreme contempt, and at last he snorted, and lifted his forefoot, made one disdainful jerk in my direction, as though he would say, 'scoot.' But instead of scooting, in my excitement I brandished my hatchet and ran toward him. That moose might then and there have made it mighty unpleasant for me. But he simply lifted his chin a bit higher, sort of pointed the horns of his antlers derisively, and jogged away, not even waving adieu with his tail. But the look in his eyes when he turned told me what he was thinking. It was, 'So long, old boy, you're too slow. I lunch fifty miles further up the trail. But I'll not keep the table waiting.' With those short legs and big feet you'll never get there."—(Forest and Stream.

Another Water Well.

Another big water well has been opened up in the valley. It was drilled into on the farm of Benjamin Benham, near Beaver Creek, about 15 miles east of here, not far from the bed of the Arkansas river. A resident of that locality was in the city yesterday and gave out the information of the finding of the water.

Mr. Benham has been working on a well on his 160 acres tract but had some difficulty in his operations owing to the presence of so many boulders and other obstacles, but at a depth of 65 feet he put in a blast of giant powder and succeeded in rending the rock and immediately a volume of water gushed forth and rose to a height of more than 60 feet in the well.

It is stated that the land is held at a higher figure now than it was a week ago, for it is said to be certain that this experiment will be repeated by other farmers.

This lends more weight to the statement often made by the Tribune that the land lying east of Florence is underlaid with subterranean lakes and that if the proper number were opened up and the water stored, this part of the valley could be put on a splendid agricultural basis. This is the third well of like nature that has been drilled into in a comparatively short time. The farmers in the Beaver district have heretofore depended upon water conducted from the Beaver creek stream miles distant, and owing to so many breaks in the flumes the supply was very uncertain.—(Florence Daily Tribune.

From to a Crow.

Thy breast triumphant against the wintry blast,
Or the snow following fast,
Thou cheerily dost sound thy trump forlorn
From the dead field of corn.

Naught daunted by the rough and frozen ground,
Thou takest thy way around,
Grotesquely waddling, loudly triumphing!
Prospecting on the spring.

What solemn conclave of thy kind shall stand,
That day, on the arable land!
Croaking where ever where once the corn stood,
[illegible]

What comes [illegible] still wait
On the creaking pasture gate,
What a watchful eye [illegible] them and thee.
The mate in the sycamore [illegible]

Adieu, brave bird, [illegible] and aspire thy flight,
Hastens to meet the night,
So may our hearts triumphant spring to greet
[illegible] swift-coming feet.

[illegible]
Where doubt and death have been,
Into the night and silence [illegible]
A jubilant song, as life goes hurrying by!

when combined with the generous baskets of fruits and the pretty glass and silverware, of which the women had filled their homes for the beautifying of this feast.

Mrs. Robert Kerr presided delightfully at the piano and rendered many familiar old favorites while dinner was in progress and afterwards between the speech making accompanied the Messrs. Templeton in their violin solos, and Mr. Lewis B. Skinner when he gave cornet solos. Their selections included several operatic numbers and called forth much applause.

Prof. Edward F. Parsons most happily acted as master of ceremonies. After some introductory remarks he requested each man present to stand and give his name, birth place and present place of residence. The cosmopolitan nature of Colorado Springs was well illustrated. Twenty-two states and seven foreign countries were represented as follows: Mississippi 1, Indiana 2, Kentucky 1, Maine 2, Nebraska 1, Pennsylvania 7, New Jersey 1, Illinois 14, Missouri 5, Michigan 1, Ohio 8, Tennessee 2, New York 5, Georgia 1, Minnesota 3, Massachusetts 5, West Virginia 1, South Carolina 1, Delaware 1, Iowa 8, Kansas 9.

Colorado's sole representative was Raymond M. Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stark, born in Elbert county, Colorado.

Canada was represented by three young men, Scotland by three, Ireland one, Norway one, Finland one. One of the young men present was a South Carolinian aged 55, who regretted he could not recall the circumstances of his birth. While these testimonies were being given there were innumerable witty sallies, especially on the part of Professor Parsons and Mayor Robinson. In introducing the mayor, the professor announced that he was born John R. Robinson, but had been christened John "Republican" Robinson. The mayor's remarks were calculated to inspire the young men to high ideals of citizenship and patriotism. He also made a strong plea for the new building. Indeed whenever the new building was alluded to it was the signal for loud applause.

The general secretary, William H. Day, made the closing address. He began by calling attention to the question prominently displayed on the wall, "Men did you write home?" "Do it today," and earnestly exhorted the young men present to write home immediately and tell where they had spent Thanksgiving. He extended cordial invitation to the men to attend the Sunday meetings held at 2:30 p. m. and the 9:15 a. m. service on Sunday, which he asserted was the "liveliest young men's prayer meeting ever held." Also spoke of the young men's congress held usually on Monday evenings at 7:30 but next week set for Tuesday evening and to be a "ladies' night," an innovation and one which bade fair to be very popular.

Regarding membership Mr. Day said that while some seemed to be awaiting the new building many were taking out either the $5 annual membership ticket or the $10 ones entitling to gymnasium privileges, good all over the United States. That while facilities in this old building were so limited, that the new one would certainly be in readiness at no distant date. By taking out tickets now the building project would be materially aided. "Talk it, talk it all the time if nothing more."

Only a few days ago nine employes of the Colorado Reduction works joined, some taking $5 and some $10 tickets amounting to $50. After the formalities were over the young men grouped about the piano and made the place ring with songs and showed that they had spent a pleasant evening by many friendly salutations.

One incident was the taking of a flashlight photograph by Curt Goerke of Manitou.

Dr. and Mrs. G. R. Fell of the Alta Vista entertained at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Truesdale.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stevens entertained a number of friends in their private dining room with covers laid for twelve.

Quite a number of town people mingled with the guests and enjoyed an excellent mini's cale.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grannis took Thanksgiving dinner at the Alta Vista.

One of the pleasant events of Thanksgiving was the supper last evening tendered the opera house stage hands by Manager S. N. Nye. The members of the union had made elaborate preparations for the event. Stage Manager Chaney and assistants set the stage in a beautiful and elaborate manner. It was in two parts, a reception room and dining room. Mr. Mercier took a fine picture of the stage which will be of value as showing the finest setting ever made in the opera house.

The guests were seated at 8 o'clock and were served with a sumptuous spread of turkey, cranberries, cold meats, salads, etc. Then followed speeches, stories, etc. Good fellowship prevailed and manager and employes fraternized in the most delightful way. At 11 o'clock representatives of the Gazette were entertained.

Among those at the supper were G. F. Hendrickson, F. H. Snyder, J. O. Chaney, A. L. Hubbard, M. J. Brant, C. Woods, S. A. Quackenboss, C. K. Keys, W. Cassady, W. H. Blackburn, W. Cdick, S. N. Nye and H. S. Rogers.

Thanksgiving dinners were given by the Women's Relief corps to the number of 155 for the old soldiers and widows and 50 for others making in all 205 dinners. The committee, through Mrs. G. H. B. Hall, wish to express thanks to the many kind friends for their donations.

A splendid buffet luncheon was served all day at the Antlers that certainly was a marvel of culinary art. A long table had been stationed in the green dining room, and it was fairly loaded with all kinds of tempting viands prepared in the most artistic manner possible. There were large oak trees made of some white confectionary, and on the top of the trees were birds countless numbers of them, whose lives had been sacrificed to make an American holiday. The perfection of every detail in the ornamentation of the table was the work of days and days of skilled work. Every leaf and twig of the deftly made trees and flowers was made by hand. The table certainly did great credit to the skill of the Antlers chefs, and to Mr. Mardecchi, who planned the affair. Henry Stalls, the head chef, who supervised the arrangement of the luncheon, is to be congratulated on the artistic skill which distinguished the luncheon.

Among a number of interesting Thanksgiving services held yesterday was that of the First Presbyterian church at which the principal speaker was Dr. Ford C. Ottman of New York, the head of the evangelistic movement of the Presbyterian denomination. Dr. Ottman will go to Pueblo tomorrow to begin a series of evangelistic meetings there on Sunday.

Debate Arranged With U. of Nebraska

Colorado college is assured of at least one debate for this college year. After a long delay the secretary of the college Debating association received a letter from Nebraska university in which they stated that they expected to debate the college again this year. Nebraska university is to have two debates in their home city, Lincoln, one with Kansas and the other with Colorado college. To insure proper support they have asked that the debate with the college be held no later than the middle of March next. According to a former agreement Colorado college was to submit a number of questions from which Nebraska was to choose one. To Colorado college was to belong the choice of sides. But from the letter received yesterday Nebraska again wants the choice of sides and it is probable that some trouble will arise over this matter, since Colorado college claims that Nebraska had choice of sides both in 1900 and 1901. The question for debate is to be submitted no later than December 16 and a meeting of the college association will be called immediately after vacation.

Christian Endeavorers Now in Convention

If the other cities of the state in which Christian Endeavor conventions are to be held during the coming week are to be as wide awake as Boulder, Colorado Endeavorers will claim that their state holds the banner for aggressive work. Delegates came to Boulder from distances of 25 to 50 miles and at the meeting on Wednesday evening, at which Rev. C. E. Eberman and the state president made addresses, the Presbyterian church was crowded.

Upon the arrival of Rev. Mr. Eberman at Colorado Springs he was joined by Miss Allsen, the state superintendent of missionary work, and by Mr. Bray, and together with Mr. Wright, who was on his way from Boulder, all left for Trinidad, at which point a convention is being held. From Trinidad they will go to Pueblo, where a convention will be held on Saturday and Sunday. The president of the state organization will join them in Pueblo on Saturday. The city C. E. union of Colorado Springs hopes to have a rousing meeting here on next Thursday, as they are to welcome Secretary Eberman to the city at that time.

Midland Band Plays for Dancers Tonight

The Second ward had things all its own way at the Catholic fair last night, and in the afternoon as well. In the afternoon the children were entertained by a program of fancy dancing and singing by Prof. Mercier's academy, and in the evening, everybody that could get on the floor enjoyed the dancing. A splendid supper was served from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Tonight the First ward will have the evening, and an auction of a number of things is to take place. A special dancing program will be carried out. The Midland band is to play during the earlier part of the evening.

It is estimated that not less than $4,000 will be made by Saturday night and this is only a conservative estimate. The fair has been in progress all week, and has been a great success from the very start. Great crowds visit the Temple theater every night.

Tonight the last program will be rendered and tomorrow night will be the great night. All the small articles that are not sold will be auctioned off, and the first auction begins tonight. Cars leave for the north and south at 1:30, the Tejon street cars being stationed at Kiowa street, and the Manitou cars leaving Nevada avenue at the same time.

NEFF-PECK

A very pretty home wedding occurred last evening at the residence of H. B. Neff at No. 10 South Wahsatch avenue, the contracting parties being Mr. Neff's only son, Frank Richards Neff, and Miss Lilly Mae Peck of Independence, Kansas.

The wedding took place at 8 o'clock and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Braislin, D. D., of the First Baptist church of this city. The bride was attractively dressed in a beautifully tucked white mousseline de sole gown and was given away by her father. The ceremony was witnessed by intimate friends and relatives of the two families and afterwards an informal reception was held. Numerous handsome presents were given to the happy couple and among them were a fine piano from the bride's father and house furnishings from the father of the groom.

The parents of both parties are well-to-do. Mr. Neff being the well-known mining man of this city, with heavy interests in the Cripple Creek district. Mr. Peck, the father of the bride, is a prosperous hay and grain merchant of Independence, Kansas.

The newly married couple will not take a honeymoon trip, but will be at home to their friends at their residence, No. 10 South Wasatch avenue.

Kirby-Kampe

Miss Genie Kampe, daughter of Mrs. F. D. Kampe, and Mr. John Marvin Kirby of this city were united in marriage by the Rev. Benjamin Brewster of Grace church last evening at 5 o'clock in the bride's home, 108 North Wahsatch avenue.

The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns, smilax and kinnikinnick, also chrysanthemums, roses and carnations.

The bride wore a gown of white taffeta and chiffon, beautifully tucked and trimmed with lace and insertion, and carried bride's roses.

The bride's sister, Miss Edna Kampe, maid of honor, and Miss Florence Dorr, bridesmaid, wore white mull over green taffeta and carried bunches of white carnations tied with green satin ribbon. Mr. Julius Kirby was best man and Mr. Pierce Kampe groomsman.

The bride formerly lived in Cincinnati, but has resided in the Springs for about six years. She has a large circle of friends here. Mr. Kirby is the junior partner in the firm of Wright, Lilly & Co., brokers, and is favorably known in business circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby went to Denver to pass their honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends in a week or two at 423 North Nevada avenue.

MASI-GOSSARD

The marriage of two well-known Colorado Springs people took place in Denver yesterday. They were Miss Lula Mae Gossard and Mr. William Matthew Masi, Jr. They will be at home at 1111 Court place after December 15.

Mr. Masi was formerly associated in business here with his father, Mr. William Matthew Masi. Mr. Masi, Jr., is now with Hymans, a well-known cafe and confectionary firm.

MAN AND THE APE.

Are They Related?

The above is the subject of a lecture to be given by Dr. Wilcox this evening at the Methodist church, in which great interest is being manifested by the people of the city. Dr. Wilcox is a very interesting speaker and always draws large audiences. It is expected that every seat in the church will be taken by those interested in this subject, the relation of man to the ape, and others who wish to help the young people of the church in their undertaking to furnish the windows of the new church. The price of admission is only 25 cents and this amount can be spent profitably by hearing this interesting and instructive lecture.

THE TRUE COPPER SITUATION

(Copyright, 1901, by Horace J. Stevens.)

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 16. (Special.)—The last shipments of copper by lake vessels are being made, and the season for navigation will end in a few days, as far as the forwarding of copper is concerned, as all the lake smelters are located on the Portage lake waterways, which are arms of Lake Superior, the ports of which are closed by ice several weeks before the last belated steamer drags her ice-encrusted tow down the length of Lake Superior, early in December. For three years past the lake mines have shipped steadily by rail, starting immediately after the close of lake navigation, and continuing until April following. This winter promises to be similar, rail shipments beginning in December, despite the many published statements of an immense surplus of copper held by the Amalgamated company, or its sales agency, the United Metals Selling company.

By the way, where is this immense accumulation of copper stored? Who are the men who have seen it with their own eyes, or, failing such, who and where are the men who have seen the copper? Two months ago the largest known accumulation of copper was a trifle less than 5,000 tons at the Dollar Bay smelters, opposite Houghton, and this has since been shipped east. Two months ago the United States was full of men who did not know of any such accumulation—then came the Casey circular, ostensibly sent out to consumers by a discharged employe of the Amalgamated sales agency, in which it was stated that the Amalgamated company had accumulated 135,000,000 pounds of unsold copper. Who and where is Mr. Casey, and why did he philanthropically send his circular to every broker handling copper shares, and why was he "fired" if he was fired, and if he wasn't fired, why wasn't he, and where are the men who know Mr. Casey personally, and can make public statement that Mr. Casey is a real entity and should there be those who can identify Casey, can they also affirm that he was actually employed by the Amalgamated company or the United Metals Selling company, and if so, in what capacity? And now that these questions have been asked, all sorts and conditions of men can think of a great variety of other questions to ask, but to repeat, where is that surplus copper stored? That surplus, all unsuspected by every one, until Mr. Casey irradiated the gloom by his remarkable circular in simulated typewriting, and ostensibly calculated for the copper consumers, but which found its way to all dealers in copper shares? That surplus, so suddenly discovered, was stated by the modest and retiring Casey to be 135,000 pounds, and now, by the aid of press, it has swelled to a round 200,000,000 pounds. Two hundred million pounds of copper amounts to 100,000 tons more than twice the annual production of the Calumet & Hecla. It would load 5,000 freight cars of 20-ton capacity 25 miles of solid freight train. On what siding between Yavapai county, Arizona, and Bound Brook, New Jersey, are there 5,000 carloads of copper concealed from public gaze? The copper is not in Houghton county, the smelters here are bare. It is not in Europe the visible supply there is carefully watched, and is now the smallest for many years. Will the gentleman who assures us that there is a floating surplus of 50,000 to 100,000 tons of copper in this country please name the place or places where it is secreted?

The sad truth of the matter is that the average speculator is a lobster (pardon the intolerance of the term, but none other fits—and is potted with great ease by the expert lobsterman. Ten weeks ago the speculative world was rock-ribbed that the Amalgamated Copper company had the metal situation so well in hand that it could never escape, and at present the average man interested in copper is in trepidation lest the unfortunate Amalgamated company (which was able to pay only $2,125,000 for its last quarterly dividend) should be forced to the wall some night while he is asleep. Perhaps the truth lies midway between the hot fit and the cold fit. Is it not possible that the Amalgamated company was not omnipotent last August, and that it is not altogether powerless today?

The Amalgamated people are old hands at the speculative game. They learned the business in Standard oil, which was for many years a stock that kept its owners guessing—guessing whether they were coming millionaires or present paupers. The time chosen for the formation of the Amalgamated company was either the best or the worst of times, according to the point of view—the best of times for placing stock, because copper shares were booming and the public hot for profits—the worst of times if the company was organized to secure permanent control of the best mines. Because the metal was then selling so high that control of mines could be had only at top prices. Is it not possible that the Amalgamated people, the real powers behind the company, not the owners of small lots of its shares—were playing a dual game not a double game, as might be asserted by the losers, but a game with two distinct objects in view, one of which object might be the domination of the copper market (as the petroleum market is dominated by the same interests), and the other object, the making of money by the rise and fall of the shares (as it is said money has been made by the same people in the rise and fall of Standard oil shares) is not this possible?

Thunder rarely comes from a clear sky, and clouds are seen before the rain falls. In the natural world, coming events cast their shadows before, but in the world of finance the shadows are apt to be dark as afterward. Why was there such a sudden change from apparent mastery of the situation to apparent loss of control? And, by the way, what are the Amalgamated people actually saying? Others are talking for them, but to just what have the prudent managers of the Amalgamated company committed themselves?

It is easier to ask questions than to answer them, and this letter is one of questions rather than answers. Its mission is to make people think to cause those who have temporarily gone out of the thinking business to cease from taking everything second-hand. The questions about the copper surplus are pertinent. If it exists, where is it? After considerable search for my own information, I am unable to find but a small part of the alleged surplus. It is only fair that those who assure us of its existence should give a few detailed figures. There are many interested parties, and the confirmation of our worst fears by cold statistics would afford at least a melancholy satisfaction akin to that of following the remains of a friend to their last resting place.

If the Amalgamated company has actually accumulated a surplus of 200,000,000 pounds, while holding the price of the metal at 17 cents, it has been guilty of a very great imprudence, and one that must seriously impair the confidence of thinking men, not in the probity, but in the business judgement and common sense of its management. To hold its own copper to the value of $35,000,000 while permitting its rivals to obtain the full benefit of the high price maintained by the Amalgamated would be supreme folly—yet this is what the majority of people seem to think has been done. If true the action shows the Amalgamated management to be lacking in the rudiments of business sagacity, that is, unless the entire plan of operations of the Amalgamated has been akin to a bunco game, and this would scarcely be maintained by even the most critical. Wall street morality is a peculiar article, but there are limits beyond which even the boldest operators would not care to go. The Amalgamated management, while it might toy with market prices, and derive both satisfaction and profit therefrom, is composed of men who could scarcely afford to engage in the gold-brick game, even were they disposed in that direction.

Let the men who have facts be heard from. There has been an elegant sufficiency of guessing, and some of the guesswork has been very coarse.

Horace J. Stevens.

MINING NEWS FROM DEADWOOD

Deadwood, S. D., Nov. 21. The first carload of machinery for the Deadwood-Standard Mining company's new 200-ton cyanide plant has arrived and it is [illegible] The new plant is being built at Ragged Top on property next to the Spearfish Mining company's mine. Ed Hinrichs of this city and the Morrison brothers and associates of Colorado City, Colo., are furnishing the money. There are immense shoots of cyaniding ore exposed, enough to last the mill for five or six years. If the company has the same success in opening up more of these ore shoots as the Spearfish Mining company had after it commenced work a year ago, there will be an unlimited amount of ore for the new company. The ore occurs in flat shoots which run close to the grass roots and it is simply a matter of quarrying it out like so much building stone. The new plant will cost about $40,000 and it is to be put into commission about the first of the year.

The Spearfish Mining company is rushing work on the erection of the new plant that is to take the place of the one that was destroyed by fire last month. The debris has been cleared away and the first carload of lumber has arrived. The plant will have a larger capacity than the one burned by about 50 tons per day, which will make a total capacity of 300 tons. The new plant will be a duplicate of the old one only the engine will be more powerful and the cyanide tanks will be larger. The old building cost about $40,000 and the insurance was $22,000, which has all been paid the company. It is now known that the American Mining company made the Spearfish Mining company a good cash offer for all of the outstanding stock, but the offer was refused. The company cleaned up something like $70,000 before the plant burned down. This paid for the ground and for the cyanide plant and left some in the treasury besides. The plant had just been enlarged before the fire destroyed everything.

It is likely that the old Shawmut Mining company of Boston will get things together again and that the payments that have been due for some time on the Esmeralda mine in the Blacktail district will be paid. The company worked the mine for several months and erected a 50-ton cyanide plant for the purpose of treating the tailings from the mill. There is an abundance of low grade ore in the mine, which is cyanide in character.

STATE MINING NEWS.

OURAY DISTRICT.

Preparations for the winter's work on the Blaine group are nearing completion. These properties are located at the head of the Dallas on the north slopes of Mount Sneffels, and consist of forty claims. The main tunnel cuts the mountain at a depth of near 2,000 feet. The vein now being driven for is supposed to dip considerably as it is expected to cut an ore body each succeeding shift. The new boarding and bunk houses will contain many conveniences. Baths, commodious toilet rooms and a library compose some of the added comforts. A force of from 12 to 14 men will be employed during the winter. A wagon road to the mines was recently completed. Ridgway, fifteen miles distant by road, is the shipping point.

A 1,200-foot cross-cut is being run to drain the main workings. Ore on the surface of the present workings is in place and in quantity, according to Manager J. J. Carmichael, who was interviewed in brief at the Beaumont hotel the first of the week. The gold and silver values increase as depth is gained. Many of the veins in the famous Sneffels district can be traced during late summer across Sneffels peak and the divide into the north slope and the Blaine group. A blowout of iron and porphyry appears to compose a large part of the hog-back that spurs from the base of the range proper. Theoretically some of the veins of the great Virginius group cut through and intersect this blowout. A large volcanic vein crops through a part of the west Sneffels district from north to south, and from another point of view may have a tendency to cut off the easterly and westerly bearing leads from entering the Blaine territory.

Papers were drawn up and mailed, it is said, the first of the week, for the sale to an English company of the Gustonian, Yankee Girl, American Belle, and other well known adjacent properties. A tunnel is to be run one-fourth of a mile or more to tap the old workings of the Yankee Girl, which has remained idle many years for various reasons, one of which is the condition of the water in the mine which is heavily impregnated with sulphuric acid that eats out pumps, pipes and other machinery about as fast as installed. Leasers have received orders to cease work within 30 days from time of notice by the American Belle company. This is further evidence in support of the assertion that a sale is pending as above stated. Ouray Herald.

ROUTT COUNTY.

Colorado Fortune Oil company is the name of a new corporation, having their office in room 204 Quincy building, Denver, Colorado.

This new company has 2,650 acres of oil land in Twenty-mile park, about 12 miles from Steamboat, and is capitalized at $1,000,000, divided into 1,000,000 shares of a par value of $1 per share.

The officers of the company are: President, George Bell, president of the George Bell Jewelry Manufacturing Co.; vice-president, D. W. Shea, of the Shea and Foster Retail Grocers; secretary, E. H. Mather, secretary of Uncle Sam Oil Co., and manager of the Western Oil Investment Co.; assistant secretary, L. S. Gardner, special representative of the Northwestern Life and Saving Co.; treasurer, C. H. Emmons, real estate and loans manager, B. N. Dawson, oil expert.

L. S. Gardner was here for a few days last week and after visiting the property he said to the Pilot representative: "I have seen several of the different oil properties of this county, but in my opinion ours is the best. Mr. Dawson located our property in Twenty-mile park last spring and I am perfectly satisfied with his choice.

"It is the purpose of the company to float part of their stock at present at 25 cents per share, the money received for it to be used in buying machinery for the property. They intend getting the machinery in here before winter sets in and then run right along. B. N. Dawson, well known here, having been manager last season, for the Northwestern Oil Co., will manage the property, while they will import an expert oil driller.

Mr. Gardner is very enthusiastic over the outlook and says that the company means business and intends to spare no money in their attempt to find oil. (Steamboat Pilot.

PAGOSA OIL FIELDS.

E. D. Mints has just returned from a tour of inspection to the oil fields of Pagosa Springs and is quite enthusiastic over the outlook in that section.

Mr. Mints, with Walter B. Stebbins, of Baltimore, are extensive holders in the stock of the Rio Grande Oil Development and Land company and are the exclusive agents in this territory for the sale of a limited amount of the company's preferred stock.

Mr. Mints pronounces the Pagosa Springs field the most promising in the west. He states that the field possesses a basin embracing 200,000 acres and that the formations are uniform and everywhere in evidence. In this wonderful oil basin the Standard Oil company has secured 25,000 acres, and the Rio Grande company, in which he is interested, owns 10,000 acres. There is a producing well within forty rods of the holdings of the Rio Grande people. The oil is of a very high grade, illuminating quality and outclasses anything heretofore discovered in the state.

It is the intention of the company to sell only a sufficient amount of preferred stock to do actual development work and when this amount has been subscribed no more stock will be sold. There is every evidence that this is a gilt-edged, ground floor proposition. (Victor Daily Record.

Nervous Dyspepsia.

A CURE FOR IT.

Not a Patent Cure All, Nor a Modern Miracle but Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.

In these days of humbuggery and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines are a ruling factor to think their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is absolutely certain to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.

In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the proprietors of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have carefully refrained from making undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no further than this, and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it that the facts will not fully sustain.

It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients acceptable to the weakest or most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medical properties are such that it will digest whatever wholesome food is taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the overworked organ and replenishes the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, giving refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food and take these tablets at each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach, which rapidly regains its proper vigor, when the tablets will be no longer required.

Nervous dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nerve system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.

Any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give universal satisfaction.

LONDON STOCK MARKET.

By Associated Press.

London, Nov. 28.—Although the requirements for the conclusion of the settlement are trifling, the scantiness of supplies stiffens money, in view of the month end, and in spite of the borrowings from the bank, which have relieved the pressure somewhat. Consequently, with the weakness of French exchange, discounts were beyond the completion of the account.

Business on the stock exchange opened with operators practically idle and prices moderately steady. The west African section was somewhat disturbed owing to colonial secretary Chamberlain's pronouncement regarding native manufacturing samples and the publication of the report of the governor of the Gold Coast about concessions to industry. Prices were nominal.

Consols opened firm, but weakened owing to fears regarding money. Home rails were dull. The flatness of Rio Tintos was the main feature of the market. They fell two points in sympathy with copper, which was attributed to New York selling. Americans were low owing to the holiday. Slight changes were mostly downward. Prices closed quiet. Kaffirs were strengthened by the statement that the number of returning refugees to the Rand will be doubled December 1 and that six additional mines will be allowed to start again.

SAILOR AND LAND SHARK.

Whisky the Bait of the Boarding Master His Absolute Dominion Over the Sailor Ashore.

"When a deep-water sailing ship arrives at her home port the men in the forecastle, from being nothing but bedevilled scallawags, become the spoiled children of fortune. They are men of mark; they are tremendously sought after; their entry is triumphal. In half a dozen shore boats, which have been expressly fastened to the sides of the vessel, people stand up and bespeak the favor of the poor sailors, offering gifts. The sailors knew it would be so all along, so they are not surprised by these attentions flattering as they are. The boarding-masters, have rowed down for them, and little tailors and inferior crayon portrait and depose hall men have rowed down specially to meet them, even the missionaries representing wealthy and conservative philanthropic organizations, have sent emissaries to bring them safely in. It is all but a certainty that the foolish sailors will never be permitted to leave the ship in peace, walk to the consulate, draw their sixty, or a hundred, or two hundred dollars' wages, and then depart to spend it as they please.

"A sailor falls into a position when he goes ashore like that of the foreign notability who happens to be the municipal guest. They present him with the freedom of the city, and then turn him over to his keepers. The boarding-masters are his keepers every time. They make him the largest kind of promises down the bay; they can well afford it, since they own him when he touches land. Not that the fact that the common sailor is naturally an absurdly helpless object in a great city—just as helpless and absurd as an ordinary business man would be who should suddenly find himself thrust in charge of a gallant, bounding bark, has escaped the attention of our lawmakers. By no means. Congress has passed numerous acts intended to serve as safeguards for Jack's course ashore. Some of these measures afford him the greatest annoyances, all are apt to be far less real to him than the boarding-master's promise, coupled as it is with brilliantly-labeled plugs of tobacco and glorious ten-cent bottles of whisky. He needs a foster father, and he knows he wants a friend; he finds both at once in the flashy, red-faced, jolly, smooth-talking individuals who know exactly what his wishes are and prove it to him on the spot.

"As soon as a vessel passes quarantine the small boats draw alongside, and the boatmen, who understand their business, make fast at once by throwing an iron hook attached to a rope over the rail.

"Hello, boys, what ship is this here?" one of the boarding-house runners asks, conversationally. "How long you been out?" Nasty bit of sea ye might a struck. Well, you'll be willin' t' take it easy for awhile. Sure. I got just the place for a fine set o' men like you fellers to spend a little holiday ashore."

Meanwhile the foolish sailors have swung buckets overside, which the landsmen fill up with the muddy bottles of drink, disposing their business cards conspicuously. They watch the buckets with cats' eyes as the group of seamen leaning on the rail haul them up, swaying, for the sailor who takes out the hard stuff belongs to the man who put it in.

"Great palavering continues on the part of the men in the boats, responded to freely by the sailors, after which the boarding-masters and the crowd, having learned which is the ship is bound to, draw off and pull away.

"A short time after we would have scrambled aboard the vessel like pirates and pounced into the forecastle to do their business there. They used to carry the entire crew away with them then and there, sometimes with the permission of the captain, often as not without it. The captain of a fine ship may be an outspoken bully at sea, but he is apt to be a lamb when he comes to deal with the crowd that own the water front. The authorities, however, have put a stop to boarding vessels in the stream.

"When the ship touches her pier the boarding-masters are there, ready and willing to pick their men out.

"'You're McCarthy's man,' says one.

"'Your Tom Rollins's man,' says another. 'You've got his card.'

"'Step along o' me. Mustard-top,' puts in a third, genially; 'you took my whisky, friend.'

"And so, with a little confusion—maybe a scuffle—matters are arranged, and the small spare, rather pallid seamen (sailors in the merchant service are not the bronzed athletes you see on men-of-war) troop away with their huge, well-fed, thick-necked companions to the Cherry street settlement of crazy boarding-houses where men convene from round the Horn, from China, from Sydney and the Indies, for a brief ridiculously costly holiday in the slums and rookeries 'long shore. The reason why he must go with the boarding master is plain. The law allows the ship four days in which to pay off men in the meantime Jack must live entirely on credit; and, as the man who has run the Easting down wants a good time, and wants it quick, the bargain is soon struck from which he never gets away until he finds himself at sea again minus a month's advance." (Earl Hovey in Ainslee's.

From the Rowan Tree.

'Tis I go singing, singing across the fields at dawn!
With fairy music ringing the bliss-new day is born,
And all the trees are stirring, far as the eye can see:
But never tiniest leaflet moves on the rowan tree.

Ah! flutings from the sea of dreams, ye will not let me rest;
Ye call and call, the livelong day, the heart from out my breast—
The heart from out my breast to the face mine eyes must see
Because I slept at nightfall beneath the rowan tree.

'Tis I go weeping, weeping across the dawy meads;
The cruel hills are sleeping; no least breath stirs the reeds.
No least breath stirs the reeds, no wind comforts me,
Because I hear the branches grouning, all on the rowan tree.

My brothers, O my brothers, call me to life and light!
'Tis human love can follow me from the Terror of the night.
They pass before me, cold and hard, and oh! they jeer at me,
For I have kissed Dream Alika beneath the rowan tree.

—Katherine Aldrich, in the November Atlantic.

A HARD STRUGGLE

Many a Colorado Springs Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders,
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Colorado Springs people endorse this claim.

Mr. James Niles of 12 East Cimarron street, carpenter, says: "During the fall of 1898 and the winter of 1899 an attack of backache persistently clung to me. If I had taken it in time I might have checked it in its earliest stages, but I neglected it, and when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Jones & Wellington's drug store, 102 N. Tejon street, there was not the slightest doubt but some derangement of the kidneys caused the annoyance. As the treatment cured me, I am only too glad to indorse the remedy."

DR. PRICE'S
Cream Baking Powder

Each time the United States Government has officially tested the baking powders the report has shown Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder to be of superlative leavening strength, free from alum, absolutely pure and wholesome.

This is gratifying, for Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is depended upon by millions of people to raise their daily bread.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., CHICAGO.

NOTE.—These Government inquiries also developed the fact that there are many mixtures upon the market made in imitation of baking powder, but containing alum or other caustic acid, whose use in food is dangerous.

SPILLANE & KEARNS,
Wood Ave. and Washington St.

We have had all kinds of luck with our new houses on Wood avenue and Washington street. All the world has come out to see them, and just as we thought, some of the visitors have found our ideas so good that they have taken them without our leave and put them into their own homes. That is all right in a way, but like all people who don't quite know how to originate, they cannot use the ideas correctly. Thus the houses which we have seen that are modeled after our Swiss and Chinese effects are beautifully mixed up and belong to none style "not yet discovered." Next week we will have two houses shaped up that will open the eyes of all the world that loves something beautiful. Just come out and see our new houses and look at the interior of our other houses nearly finished any time from 9 to 5 p. m.

We have a few houses of our own for rent:

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Forecast for Colorado: Fair Friday and Saturday; variable winds.

Satisfied people wear Ashby's spectacles.

MRS. HAWKS' DISTRICT.—Mrs. Hawks' district of the First Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. Waugh, 25 Boulder Crescent, at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

MONTE ROSA.—Monte Rosa Lodge No. 4 will give a social in I. O. O. F. hall tonight. An interesting program has been arranged. A good time is assured all who attend.

NOBLESSE OBLIGE.—The young ladies of the Noblesse Oblige club of the Second Congregational church will give an entertainment tonight for the benefit of the organ fund. It will be given at the church.

FOR THE Y. M. C. A.—The young men of the Gutin Commercial college made a gift of $35.25 to the building fund of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday. All the pupils of the school donated some amount.

CLUB DISBANDS.—Lack of funds necessary to make the club a success is said to have caused disbandment of the Colorado City Athletic club. The club intended to fit up the old Methodist church for a gymnasium but not enough members could be secured who were willing to put up enough money to secure the apparatus needed.

MRS. JARLEY'S WAX WORKS.—On Friday evening, November 29, at 8 o'clock, Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works will be displayed in the Second Congregational church by the original and only Mrs. Jarley, who has collected a number of new and up-to-date figures. Also a musical interlude, a modern magazine will be represented by a succession of tableaux. A small admission fee will be collected at the door, the proceeds to be donated to the organ fund.

WANT DAYTON'S PLACE.—Many applications are being received by Chief of Police Vincent King for the position of city detective, which will become vacant on January 1, when George Dayton becomes deputy sheriff. The police committee of the city council, the chief of police, and the mayor will consider the applications, most of which are from persons now on the force, and the appointment will probably be made at the next regular meeting of the council on Monday evening.

The charity ball given last week in Philadelphia was an immense success and the great society event of the year. It is the intention of the management to make the charity ball at the Antlers on December 3 the prominent social event of Colorado Springs.

GROWING OLD GRACEFULLY.—Nothing is so interesting, nothing so restful and refreshing, as to see a man and woman who have lived together for a quarter of a century, starting down the shady slope of life, hand in hand, and happy, or they were when she, with flushed face, heard love's old, sweet song. Marriage is often a failure, because people marry without ever giving the future a thought, marry and go to work and work without recreation till they are ready to die. I once heard a lady telling her daughter what to do when she was married. Take a trip, she said, after married, in winter time when the world is cheerless and you are short on sunshine; take a trip to the southern states and turn winter into summer again, go to Little Rock, Hot Springs or San Antonio, and get acquainted with your husband; watch him at the hotel and see what he likes to eat and how and when he likes it. It won't hurt you to study his comfort a little; it would make him love you more. But you must know something of him before you are married. Never marry a man who will laugh at the jokes on mothers-in-law at the minstrel show or who will not buy his wedding tour tickets over the Missouri Pacific Railway.

SILKS

The one big department in our store is the Silk Department. We do the business of this city in Silks. This is no idle boast but is an actual fact. We are content to sell good silks on a very close margin of profit, and our large trade enables us to always have nothing but new silks.

We want you to feel that our guarantee is back of every yard of silk that this store sells. If a silk won't wear then it has no place in this silk department of ours.

As a special leader we place on our bargain table this week a large range of colorings of Louisine Silk, a new soft serviceable silk.

We are agents for Stirling Guaranteed Black Silks, the kind that has the name woven into the selvedge of every yard. They are the best silks made in the United States, and are made in all popular weaves.

We sell them at fully 20 per cent. below the regular prices they are usually sold for.

Millions in Sugar Beets This year.

Over $400,000 in cash was paid last Saturday by the owners of the beet sugar factories at Loveland, Rocky Ford, Sugar City and Grand Junction to the farmers of the territory surrounding the four places. This is only one of the six or eight payments for beets that will comprise the sum total of the shares of the agriculturists alone in the exceedingly youthful, but wonderfully lusty, industry.
